Assembly Next To Get Kellett Bill

Another Fierce Floor Fight Seen on Reorganization Plan

MADISON (AP)—The Kellett bill to reorganize state government has emerged battle-scarred but unbowed from a bitter three-week Senate struggle that ended Friday in a peaceful 18-12 vote of approval.

Republicans pointed the blueprint toward another fierce floor test in the Assembly on a final vote of passage that paralleled party lines.

The climax came on the 108th vote involved in the epic fight.

"This is a historic time for the Senate. This is a historic piece of legislation," said Majority Leader Jerris Leonard, R-Bayside.

Master Plan

The Kellett bill provides a broad master plan to repackage about 90 state agencies into 27 departments and boards. Republicans said the blueprint would bring more efficiency, more economy and more accountability to the public.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles called the bill "a significant breakthrough" in Wisconsin government.

Democrats voted solidly against the bill and called it an empty measure.

The plan was forged in 18 months of study by a legislative task force headed by former industrialist William R. Kellett of Menasha. It is designed to furnish a simplified framework for state government by grouping agencies according to their duties and giving the new departments a chance to chart detailed changes to eliminate duplication.

Republicans paved the way for passage two days earlier with a compromise that postponed the controversial question of a full merger of conservation and water agencies until the 1969 legislature meets.

'Isn't Everything'

"This bill isn't everything," Leonard said in the final floor speech, "but if it doesn't pass, you don't get anything."

Republicans charged Democrats had tried to sabotage the bill and said that compromises were needed to weld together the votes for passage within their own ranks after Democrats lined up repeatedly to oppose crucial sections of the bill.

One Democrat said privately that three of the 12 senators in his party had wanted to vote for the bill Friday, but were forced to yield to party solidarity during a two-hour caucus behind closed doors.

Police Seek Slaying Link

Wauwatosa Man Reportedly Seen With Two Women

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Suburban New Berlin police have put out a national elert for a 34-year-old Wauwatosa man wanted for questioning in connection with the knife slayings of two Waukesha County women.

Police Chief William J. Sadusky said a tip received by his department has placed the man with the two slain women after they were seen leaving a cocktail lounge in suburban Brookfield.

Sadusky said if the man can be found, and if the tip can be verified "then we feel we are only a matter of hours from making an arrest.

Gives Description

The man was described as 5-feet-11, 190 pounds, with brown hair and a receding hairline. He was reportedly driving a 1963 maroon sedan.

Sadusky said a search for the man at his home, place of work and "known haunts" Friday failed to turn him up.

"We are looking for one piece of evidence," Sadusky said,, "and if we get that, we can make the arrest."

He would not elaborate.

The bound, gagged and stabbed bodies of Miss Cheryl Ann Packard, 22, of rural Pewaukee and Miss Sharon Malone, 25, of rural Hartland, were found in a New Berlin field last Sunday.

Buses Back On Streets In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bus service resumed here today for the first time since April 10, when some 1,500 Transport Co. employes struck the city's lone mass transit carrier.

Union members voted Friday to ratify a new pact that would give them an additional 55.4 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits over a three-year period and end the longest mass transit strike in Milwaukee County history.

The three year contract, the longest ever approved by members of Division 998 of the Amalgamated Transit Union, will boost employes average hourly wage from $3 to a maximum $3.49 within two years.

Buses began rolling at 5:30 a.m. today after some 160,000 daily customers had been without bus service for 19 days. The record strike caused increases in absence at schools and factories. It also made for increased auto traffic in the city, jammed parking lots and a rush on taxi cabs.

45-Day Delay In Rail tSrike Seems Likely

President Asks Extension to Draft Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears certain to grant President Johnson's request for a 47-day extension of the no-strike period in the nationwide dispute between the railroads and six shopcraft unions.

But several senators made clear their support was based on the President's pledge that he would submit legislation within a few days to solve the dispute.

The Senate Labor Committee approved the extension resolution 15 to 0 Friday afternoon, within several hours after the decision to request it had been reached at a morning White House conference.

The House Commerce Committee appeared ready to follow suit Monday morning.

Expected to Pass

Then both branches are expected to pass the resolution Monday afternoon, sending it to Johnson for his signature well ahead of the threatened strike at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday.

Congress already has voted one 20-day extension of the no-strike period in the dispute which centers chiefly on wage issues.

The White House said the President was asking a further delay "out of concern for the national interest, out of concern for the American servicemen in battle" in Vietnam.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said, "Much as I dislike any labor legislation of this kind, there seems to be no alternative.

"The difficulties that will envelop us if a rail strike starts Wednesday are too awesome to contemplate."

No Final Decision

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Senate sponsor of the extension resolution, said several legislative alternatives to settle the dispute were discussed at the White House meeting. But he said the administration made clear no final decision had been reached on this.

However, Morse said he unalterably was opposed to compulsory arbitration and never would vote for it.

This was the solution adopted in legislation which settled a bitter rail fight over firemen and work rules in 1963.

"It is not only a strike we are faced with but also a lockout," Morse said. "There is no doubt in my mind that the carriers, by design, are seeking to compel compulsory arbitration."

The six unions, whose walkout would cripple about 95 per cent of the nation's rail transport facilities, earlier this week reaffirmed next Wednesday's strike date.

U.S. Attacks on North Meet Stiff Resistance

Escalation Predicted By Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics dourly predicted today further escalation of the Vietnam fighting while supporters foresaw a stiffening of homefront resolve as the result of Gen. William C. Westmoreland's Washington rounds.

Addressing Congress, briefing governors and conferring personally with key legislators Friday, the U.S. commander in Vietnam won high praise from both opponents and supporters of President Johnson's policies for his direction of the military effort against the Communists.

But it was apparent Westmoreland had failed to turn the tide of crackling congressional criticism directed at Johnson's intensification of the war and at his action in bringing the general home to report at a crucial time in the battle for public opinion.

Westmoreland won a standing ovation when he told Congress: "Backed at home by resolve, confidence, patience, determination and continued support, we will prevail in Vietnam over Communist aggression."

Such influential members as House Speaker John W. McCormack and Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, thought this appeal would "increase the spirit of resolve" at home to see the war through to victory.

Call for Unity

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford applauded Westmoreland's call for unity at home. Such unity, he said, will "bolster the morale of our fighting men (and) convince the Communists that the Vietnam war must end."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who has opposed escalation of the war, told reporters he thinks that on the basis of Westmoreland's report more men and money will be poured into the war. He said he

Communist Killed In Korean Battle

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A North Korean was killed and two others were wounded and captured in a predawn encounter today in the 2nd U.S. Infantry Division area near the Korean truce line, the U.N. Command said.

The incident, sixth known fatal clash along the truce line this month, occurred about two miles south of the military demarcation line.

Many More Than Expected

310,000 at Expo 67 Opening

MONTREAL (AP) — Encouraged by the enthusiasm and size of an opening day crowd about three times bigger than predicted, officials of the Montreal Expo 67 looked forward to a bustling weekend.

An official said Friday's crowd was estimated at 310,000 — not an exact figure because the fair's computer broke down. Original predictions were for 120,000 Friday, 240,000 today and 240,000 Sunday.

Housing Complaints

Almost no one interviewed in the opening day throng had a bad word to say about the fair, although there have been some complaints about housing and prices of food in Montreal.

Comments on Expo include "fabulous" and "magnificent."

The Vietnam war was injected into the fair by eight men who sat down in the U. S. Pavilion and displayed shirts plastered with slogans denouncing U. S. policy in Vietnam.

Pavilion officials gave them chairs and soft drinks and one remarked: "It looks as if we have added a new exhibit."

The demonstrators left peaceably when the pavilion closed at 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. J. Goldschmidt of Brussels, Belgium, was one of those who said Expo is the greatest fair ever held. She said there was no doubt that it surpassed both the Brussels exhibition of 1958 and the New York World's Fair of 1964-65.

The most serious mishap was a power failure Friday which tied up the $3-million Gyrotron, most publicized ride in the fair. Some riders were trapped for almost three hours in its upper levels.

The main escalator in the U.S. Pavilion, one of the longest in the world, broke down Thursday night and almost forced the closing of the big geodesic bubble.

The escalator was working fine Friday, however, and thousands were using it to view the U. S. space exhibit on the top platform inside the bubble.

Two MIGs Downed by Americans

SAIGON (AP) — Striking again at targets near Hanoi, American war planes fought six duels with defending MIGs over North Vietnam Friday and U.S. Air Force pilots claimed two kills.

The F105 Thunderchiefs ran into heavy missile and MIG defenses as they attacked railroad car repair shops 2¼ miles east-northeast of the center of Hanoi and a highway 12 miles west of the Red capital.

The U.S. command said two MIG 17s were downed but made no mention of any American losses.

Radio Hanoi claimed that four U.S. planes were shot down.

The increased pace of the air activity was marked by five raids in the Hanoi area within a week.

New Ground Operation

In South Vietnam, 18 ground operations were under way, but there was only scattered contact with the enemy, U.S. spokesmen said.

The operations included a new one called Beaver Cage along the coast about 25 miles south of Da Nang. It began Friday with a landing by U.S. Marines from water craft and helicopters to begin a search and destroy action. Results so far listed two enemy killed and no American casualties, spokesmen said.

U.S. B52 jet bombers ranged the country with four strikes today against enemy camps, storage areas and troop concentrations.

In the air raids over North Vietnam, Air Force planes from their bases in Thailand concentrated on targets in the Hanoi area while Navy planes from the 7th Fleet carriers Kitty Hawk, Hancock and Bon Homme Richard went after targets in the North Vietnamese panhandle.

In the strike against the railroad car repair shop northeast of Hanoi, pilots reported heavy rail damage in the yards. They said thick, black smoke was seen coming from the target area.

The two MIGs were shot down just west of the causeway target area. They were the 43rd and 44th reported brought down by American planes.

Heavy Raid Damage

US. officers said there were "at least" six engagements between Amrican jets and MIGs during the day and 21 MIG sightings were reported over the two target regions.

Numerous sightings of surface to air missiles also were reported and pilots said they encountered continuous antiaircraft fire over the target areas.

Bird Lovers Dispute Postal Authorities

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — When members of the Oregon Audubon Society saw a new 20-cent airmail stamp unveiled at the post office, they identified the bird on the stamp as a Central American magpie jay.

The stamp, however, was supposed to be a Columbia River Basin jay.

The Post Office had picked the jay from among 400 Audubon prints of birds thought to be from North America.

But the bird was painted from a mounted specimen which had been mislabeled.

Fight to Start in 10 Days

Governor's Budget Given to Assembly

MADISON (AP)—Republicans and Democrats are scrupulously scanning the $1.1 billion budget bill returned Friday to the state Assembly to arm themselves for the floor fight expected to start within 10 days.

The Joint Finance Committee's version of Gov. Warren P. Knowles' budget, still balanced without new taxes, came back to the Assembly during a brief session at mid-afternoon Friday.

GOP leaders in the Assembly had hoped the floor work might begin by next Wednesday, but Democrats asked and received additional time to draw up their suggestions for retouching the 139-page document.

Party Line Vote

The finance committee had endorsed the 1967-69 spending level April 21 on a straight 11-3 party line vote. But it took a week for bill draftsmen to rewrite the proposal to fold in all the changes made by the committee and actually send it to the Assembly.

Assistant Minority Leader David Obey, D-Wausau, said he thought it would take about a week for his party to review the committee's actions and decide what changes it would want to try to make.

Republicans spent long hours behind closed doors Wednesday and Thuraday of this week discussing the budget, but spent most of their time seeking an agreement on a proposed revision in aids tn counties for care of mental patients in state hospitals.

The budget returns from nearly three months of finance committee review essentially the same size as the $1.1 billion recommended by Knowles. But numerous revisions, reductions and replacements are contained in the finance version.

Denies Epidemic Claims

Red China Rejects Drug Assistance From U.S.

TOKYO (AP) — Calling it a dirty trick, Communist China rejected today a move by the Johnson administration to allow sales of American drugs to fight epidemics reported on the Chinese mainland.

An article in the official Peking People's Daily under the headline, "God of Plague Peddles Vaccine" accused the United States of trying to spread rumors about epidemics in order to harm China's relations with its neighbors.

Meningitis, Cholera

Travelers from Red China have reported widespread outbreaks of meningitis, cholera and infectious hepatitis, and official Chinese statements have tended to back up the reports.

U.S. officials said last week 14 domestic drug manufacturers were told at a meeting with lawrence C. McQuade, assistant secretary of commerce for domestic and international business, that the government would look favorably on applications to sell to the Chinese such drugs as cholera vaccines, tetracycline, sulfa and penicillin.

Sources said the government acted partly for humanitarian reasons and partly in the hope of preventing the reported epidemics from spreading to friendly Asian countries.

The Peking People's Daily commented on the U.S. move in terms similar to its scathing attacks on American involvement in Vietnam.

It said the United States was making "extremely vicious anti-Chinese propaganda" intended to discredit the Chinese people and "present heinous U.S. imperialism as a god of mercy to deceive the people of the world."

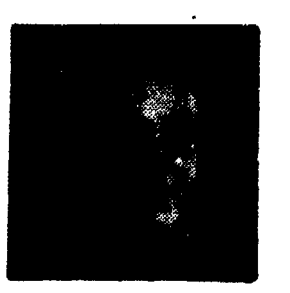
St. Pius Church, Father Keller Mark Anniversary Sunday

The 10th anniversary of St. Pius X Catholic Church and the 35th anniversary of ordination of its founding pastor, the Rev. Richard Keller, will be observed by the congregation Sunday.



Fr. Keller

A testimonial dinner is scheduled at 6 p.m. with a reception from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Father Keller will celebrate the high mass at 8:45 a.m.

A native of Appleton, Father Keller attended St. Lawrence Seminary at Mt. Calvary. He was ordained in 1932 by the Most Rev. Paul Rhode, bishop of the Green Bay Diocese at the cathedral. He was assistant at Sturgeon Bay, Manitowoc, Green Bay, Oshkosh, and New London. He also served as chaplain in the U.S. Army from 1935 to 1938.

In 1940 he was assigned as pastor in Gillett and in 1951 at Cleveland. On Sept. 4, 1957 he was appointed as founding pastor of St. Pius, which was constructed under his guidance.

William Otto is in charge of the anniversary celebration.

Kenneth D. Theis, president, will preside.

The 35-member special gifts committee, under the co-chairmanship of Gordon A. Bubolz and Donald L. Jury, will meet at 7 p.m. Monday to launch the campaign.

General gifts division leaders and captains, under the guidance of Mrs. James Veum and Allan C. Mulder, will meet at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday. There will be 10 division leaders and 50 captains, heading a campaign group of 200. A kick-off meeting for this group is set for May 15. The campaign will conclude May 31.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Herman Roth, one of 33 designer craftsmen in silver in this country, spent 36 years in the U.S. Post Office Department before devoting full time to his art. He had always been interested in silver smithing as a hobby. Upon retirement in 1956 he found he not only had a fine reputation but a business as well. His interest in Judaic (his own faith) and Christian art led to his designing and making religious pieces in silver.

Today at an age when most men are willing to relax, Mr. Roth is more active than ever. Fifty per cent of his output consists of religious pieces—chalices, Hanukkah lamps, etc. "It is the most rewarding work I've done," he says. He is expressing his faith in his craft so that others may express theirs. He has turned down high salaried, permanent positions with large silver houses so that he could continue his personal commitment to churches and synagogues. A great deal of his time is spent lecturing and teaching throughout the country to preserve and continue the craft that expresses his faith.

When asked about his own faith, he said, "There has always been someone looking out for me. If it had been left up to me I'd have made a mess of it."'

Assemblyman Enters Bill on Abortion Law

MADISON — A bill to legalize abortion in Wisconsin was introduced in the Assembly Thursday by Assemblyman Lloyd Barbee, D-Milwaukee.

Under the proposal, present state law, which makes abortion a crime, would be changed so that any woman could obtain an abortion through contact with a physician.

Barbee, who was optimistic about the chances for passage of the bill, also introduced a measure which would legalize sexual contact, including homosexuality, between consenting persons over 18 years old.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

And don't you sometimes re-read, study, compare, figure, clip, save, and show to friends? When you're on the brink of buying, aren't you hungry for facts, features, dimensions, styles, colors, capacities, prices? Print advertising puts people who are close to a purchase close to the kind of information they demand. Newspapers, magazines and brochures let them linger with your message for as long as they like. Print imparts important details, allows for colorful presentations, makes lasting impressions, takes people straight to the point—of purchase. If you've something to sell, it will pay you to promote it regularly in print—where ready-to-buy people can keep their eyes on it, get their hands on it, make the most of it. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

Modernizing Local Government

The fact has been obscured, as our state capitol correspondent observes today, by the preoccupation of many of our city governments with the state tax sharing issue, but the state legislature has taken a progressive step in ordering a review of the problems of local government organization in the state.

The legislature has concluded, in effect, that if it is asked to consider further local government financial relief, it probably owes to its constituents also an objective reexamination of the condition of local government administration.

More particularly, its new bill says that it intends to reassess the multiplicity of local governmental units, reflecting a pattern established more than a century ago, for the problems of the future, visible and speculative. It is fair to conclude that the man who brought about a broadening of the legislative commission's study mandate was James R. Morgan, the studious head of the state tax department, who originally broached it in a guest article on this page about a year ago. Shortly thereafter he repeated it in an appearance with the Legislative Council, which endorsed his plan.

Contrary to some views that the pattern of local government is fixed and that the people of Wisconsin do not like changes in their local public service agencies, it seems to us that there is an obvious atmosphere of change in these respects.

During the last two decades or less the school district organization of the state has been revamped completely. About 90 per cent of the districts that formerly operated have disappeared, because the people of Wisconsin, and the professional education community, concluded that the cause of good education and a decent regard for public economy required such a revolution. A little more than a year ago the state achieved an epochal reorganization of its county boards. Although the state supreme court took the initiative and in effect confronted the legislature with an ultimatum, the historical fact is that the redistricting and simplification of county boards was achieved with very little public commotion or resistance. For the first time in this century, the voting power on the average county board reflects the numerical distribution of the population.

Such achievements lead us to believe that the time is appropriate to consider other, and possibly more difficult reforms, in the field of municipal annexation to reflect the demonstrated fact of expanding urbanization, in the realignment of local government functions — counties inevitably will broaden the scope of their powers and duties in the future — and in the reduction of the numbers of governmental units in rural districts, such as the towns.

Interim study commissions at Madison, when carefully chosen and explicitly charged, are enormously useful instruments for civic education, as several notable predecessor commissions have demonstrated lately. Typically they discover that they can mirror the views of the state community and channel them into political action. Another opportunity is now at hand.

Protests From Within the Churches

Archbishop Patrick O'Boyle told a press conference that the reinstatement of the Rev. Charles Curran at Catholic University, Washington, D.C. "must not be interpreted as in any way reflecting theological issues injected by the news media. In particular, it in no way derogates from the teachings of the church ... on birth control."

But it seems likely that things will never be quite the same again in the Roman Catholic Church in the United States. For this was one more chapter in what Daniel Callahan, associate editor of Commonweal, has called the "crisis in Catholic education."

Father Curran also has emphasized that his reinstatement is not vindication of some of his criticisms of the church. He was dismissed unfairly, he says, by the Board of Trustees because he was given no reasons for the dismissal or a hearing on them. The dismissal was denounced by some high ranking clerical leaders in the church including Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore and Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston.

But whatever the reasons for Father Curran's dismissal and his eventual reinstatement, the circumstances were unusual. Instead of any bowing to authority there was outright rebellion. Other faculty members at Catholic University went on strike. Students boycotted classes which were eventually called off. Priests, nuns and students picketed the university with such signs as "if there's no place for Charlie at Catholic U, there's no place for Catholic U in the United States." Although there had been picketing and protests in the dismissals of 21 faculty members by St. John's University two years ago, the revolt was not as widespread nor the results the same — at least yet.

Does it all mean that anarchy is rife in what has sometimes appeared to be the last bastions of order, authority and decorum in the nation if not the world? We doubt it. There is a conflict here between the conservative and the liberal, in some cases between the old and the young, and which is all the more noticeable because it had not so gradually developed but was almost released by the example of Pope John XXIII and the spirit of Vatican II.

For better or worse, we can expect to see more open protests in many religious denominations as part of man's constant search for truth and explanations.

Proxy Pickets for Hire

Did someone say that today's youth are unbusinesslike, unimaginative, uncreative and in a rut?

In Washington three young men have established Proxy Pickets in answer to what they feel must be a driving need. The pamphlet they are circulating states that "Proxy Pickets offers you expression of your views plus convenience. How else could you express your gripes effectively? How much would it cost you to bring in your own marchers, including transportation, meals, lodging, and other arrangements?"

Instead Proxy Pickets will take on the chore. They will provide five pickets for $17 an hour, 10 for $33 and up to 50 for $154. "Larger demonstrations and additional services are available under special arrangement." And since they are "located in the nation's capital," they have "easy accessibility" to the White House and Congress. Even arrangements with the local police will be taken care of.

Proxy Pickets will not work for known Communists, won't riot and won't do any self-immolations. Since the three young organizers are white, male, neatly shaven and wear their hair short, they probably would hire the more hirsute for left wing and anti-war demonstrations, members of minority groups for anti-poverty pleas and women for equal pay, rights and authority.

There are some charges that the plan makes a mockery out of freedom of speech. More likely it may serve to ridicule the lengths to which marches, picketings and demonstrations have gone or come. In fact Proxy Pickets may very well kid themselves out of clients altogether.

Looking Backward

Crescent Talks on Blue Laws

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for May 4, 1867.

The radicals seem to be very anxious to revive the old blue laws in this country.

In Rhode Island they have made it a fine of $500 to give a public masked ball.

In Massachusetts it's a breach of the laws to drink anything stronger than tea or coffee; while in our own State of Wisconsin, if a man wishes to leave home on Sunday, he must go to church, especially if he be German and resides in Milwaukee.

Seriously, if the radicals wish the world reformed, wouldn't it be a good idea to reform themselves first?

If they are such lovers of virtue, why don't they go to work and reform such men as Stuart and Booth and hundreds of other "scarlet" radicals we could mention?

The streets of Jerusalem were kept clean by everyone keeping his own door-step clean.

25 YEARS AGO
Saturday, April 25, 1942.

The wildest welcoming celebration in St. Louis since Charles A. Lindbergh came back from his trans-Atlantic flight was held for war hero Lt. Commdr. Edward H. O'Hare, the U.S. Navy flier who shot down five enemy bombers and damaged a sixth over the Pacific. O'Hare, who grew up in St. Louis, was to ride in a huge parade with his mother and wife.

Dr. Helen Calmes was elected president of the Appleton Business and Professional Woman's Club, succeeding Miss Anita Losli.

Miss Constance Clark, Appleton, was to present her senior recital at Lawrence Conservatory of Music the next night. Miss Marguerite Schumann, soprano from Sawyer, Wis., was to assist in the recital.

Mrs. Alice Ralph, Appleton, was elected president of District 14, Rebekah Lodge. Mrs. William Martin, Appleton, was named secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Earl A. Alger, Kaukauna, warden.

10 YEARS AGO
Saturday, April 27, 1957.

Lt. Bill Buchman, Appleton, was to represent the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in the Penn relays the coming weekend. The star pole vaulter held the record of 13 feet, 8 inches at Dartmouth College and in 1956 hit 13-11 as he placed second in the official indoor championships in Madison Square Garden.

E.A. Hutchinson, Clintonville, was president of the John Dunlavy, Bear Creek, served as the field trial secretary that weekend at the Brittainy field trials at grounds near Clintonville. Thiryt-two dogs were entered in the two-day event.

New officers of the Disabled War Veterans chapter at Manawa included George Gresen, commander; Everette Smith and Albert Drath, vice commanders; Edmund Anderson, chaplain; Gust Fuerst, adjutant; Arnold Bruns, finance officer; Louis Marquardt, sergeant-at-arms.

Few Battles Between Opposing Planes

Only Fraction of U.S. Air Power In Vietnam Used Against Enemy

BY HORST FAAS
Associated Press Photographer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam is now under air siege from three directions — from the sea to the east, from South Vietnam, and from Thailand on the west. For reasons other than military, this air power is not used at more than a fraction of its potential, but it is nonetheless formidable.

By latest figures, 1,700 fixed-wing aircraft are now deployed in South Vietnam, and some 2,000 helicopters. The string of bases for this fleet runs all the way from the 17th Parallel south to the Mekong Delta. There is no place within South Vietnam that is not within range of quick air support.

Three Carriers

Afloat, the so-called Yankee Station of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin is always manned with three carriers. A fourth carrier rotates in and out of the area on R&R, rest and recreation. Each carrier's complement is 60 to 90 planes, with the exception of the nuclear-powered Enterprise, which carries 70 to 100 planes.

In addition, there are several Marine helicopter carriers offshore, available to land a Marine "fire brigade" team in case of trouble along the coast or inland.

The United States air buildup in Thailand is growing steadily. B52 bombers are now stationed at Utapao, and other types of planes at many other Thai bases.

It is an open secret that there are at least two helicopter fields in Laos, close up to the border of North Vietnam. From these fields, the whirlybirds take off to rescue American airmen downed in enemy country. A similar field in eastern Thailand performs rescue missions over the Ho Chi Minh trail, which in this area winds down through Laos.

Unlike Other Wars

The air effort gainst North Vietnam is unlike that of any previous war. Targets are limited by political order, and the enemy's defense is relatively weak. There are no great bomber raids over North Vietnam, as in World War II over Germany, Italy and Japan, and the familiar dogfight between opposing fighters is almost unknown.

But there are targets — power plants, steel mills, oil dumps, railroad yards, mountain passes, radar stations, shore batteries, roads and bridges, missile bases and ammunition dumps. These targets are under steady attack, for the purpose of lessening the enemy's ability to send aid to the insurgent forces in South Vietnam.

Asks Free Parking in New Ramp

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Fiasco of the new parking ramp at Soldiers' Square in Appleton has gone too far. Four times in two months the Appleton City Council has changed its mind about whether to make the ramp parking meter or cashier type. Now we are told it will be two months until it can be opened. In the meantime, College Avenue in the business district is all torn up.

Since the business men in Appleton prefer cashier type parking ramp to the meter, then is there any question? Appleton City Council and its work is supported by taxes, by far the lion's share of which is paid by business men in the Appleton business district.

Will the Council lose any money by opening the ramp to the public for free parking for a month or two as opposed to keeping it closed for the same period? Leave the ramp open for free parking until such time as the cashier equipment can be installed — it will cost the Council nothing in loss of revenue over what it has already lost. The Council tore up College Avenue, now let it provide free parking in the new Soldiers' Square ramp.

Can't Some of the Streets Be Repaired at Some Time?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

To coin an old familiar phrase: You can't repair all the streets all the time, but why can't we repair all the streets some of the time?

I have been traveling the 600 block of S. Oneida Street for the past four years and have "felt" no improvements to the street condition, especially the area near the railroad tracks.

Because my job takes me to various cities throughout the country comparable in size and population, I do find the same conditions prevailing in other cities, but corrective action has been taken within the past four years.

As it stands now, drivers slow down to a ridiculous speed in their efforts to cross the railroad tracks without damaging their cars. Having worked on road construction during my college vacation days, I know for a fact that there is not that much time or money involved in getting these roads in good driving condition.

Not only is this disturbing for us business people, but I really sympathize with the expectant mother traveling to either St. Elizabeth or Appleton Memorial over the same route.

I hope the personnel responsible will take corrective action to give the people of Appleton and visitors to our city a better road in this area.

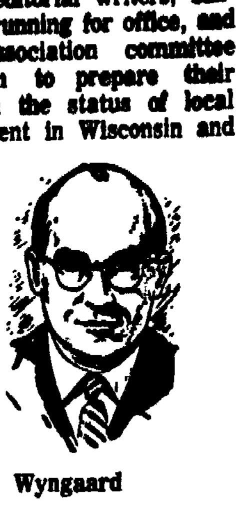
Wisconsin Report

Government Reform Advocates Now Have Their Big Opportunity

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Now is the time for all those academic critics, editorial writers, candidates running for office, and civic association committee chairmen to prepare their notes on the status of local government in Wisconsin and the need for its reform they have argued for so many years.



Wyngaard

There is about to be provided for them, at long last, a forum that will provide an opportunity for serious review of the adequacy of the 19th Century local govermental service arrangements for the conditions and needs of the late 20th century.

The new "blue ribbon" committee about to be set up for the review of state-local financial relations has an expressed mandate to examine also the condition of local government organization in Wisconsin.

The secondary purpose of the commission's creation has had less attention than the question of reviewing the adequacy of state financial aids and tax sharing arrangements. But it may very well be the most important of the charges given to it by the legislature.

THE MANDATE OUTLINED

The bill now approved by both houses directs the study commiession, which will report to the 1969 legislature to:

"Study Wisconsin's present methods of sharing taxes and paying state aids and the relationship of these payments to the adequacy of local government units."

And:

"Study the feasibility of authorizing additional sources of tax revenue to local government units."

Then·

"Study the organization of local government in this state to determine whether the administration of any government functions should be reassigned to different levels of government, and whether it is possible to reduce the number of over-lapping government units, eliminate duplication of activities and improve efficiency."

EXPENSES VS. NEEDS

Thus the Legislature has declared its attitude clearly enough: if there is to be a serious movement to transfer more of the costs of local government to the state tax base, then there must also be a conscientious effort to determine that the framework of local government is reasonably economical and efficient. The state does not intend, it is obviously implied, to prop up inefficiency with state subsidy.

The topic is a massive one, at least in its implications. Most critics have held for years that Wisconsin could handle county responsibilities with far fewer counties. There are town governmental units composed of tiny handsful of people. The school reorganization record of the last two decades provides ample evidence of the opportunities for reshaping the local service machinery designed for the needs of the pioneers. Hardly anyone, it may be supposed, would guess that the existing framework of local government would be established today.

WON'T BE EASY

Yet to declare that the local governmental arrangements are unnecessarily complex is not to say that it will be easy, or even possible, to reform them. Doubtless that is why the authors of the state tax study proposal associated it with the idea of machinery renovation. The state aid carrot was the most effective of the devices involved in the school district integration movement also.

Nor should anyone be surprised if officers and residents and supporters of the status quo in the towns, or the counties, deride the motives of the reformers. Much of the demand, and most of the strident criticism, of rural local government comes from the urban sections of the state. Yet the urban conglomerations of competitive local governments are obviously costly and inefficient also, as those critics will be reminded.

And if the State Legislature itself is unable to streamline the sloppy state government machine, does it come into the campaign for local government simplification and economy with clean hands? It will be a fair question, and it will inevitably be asked.

Asks Why Menasha Hiked Bike Licenses by 50 Cents

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Why do bike licenses have to be raised to $1.00 per year? Two years ago they were $.50. That's a 100 per cent increase. I wish I could double my pay that easy.

Why do you members of our council allow this to happen? Yes it's only $ 50 and what's that? To the child who has to pay for the license out of $.50 per week it's a great deal. Or let's put it another way. What would you say if Madison doubled the cost of your car license, that is made it $32 per year.

If the cost to run our police department has gone up why should the people with children, with bikes, have to pay the cost? I feel this is a citywide item. What did the Menasha Police Department do to justify this increase in cost by 100 per cent?

What rights do our children have with their bikes? Every motorist swears at them, can't ride here, can't ride there, nothing is right. Remember they are future drivers, and have some rights.

These license cost the city approx $.21 each, and if they have gone up since last year only 1 or 2 cents. The Town of Menasha can sell theirs for only $.50 per year, besides they have to buy files, cards and hire extra help to register their bikes. We have been at this for years. Again I ask why?

Agrees With Buckley on School Board

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I've been wanting to write about the school board for some time. Tonight the Mayor's article put the words into my mind. I agree that they broke faith with the council and also are acting like a bunch of kids whose toys have been taken away. Summer school is necessary for make up work but so many students take the easier summer course to get the hard subjects out of the way. Also they take the snap courses to pad their credits and grades. This is all fine but too costly.

Also this business about a south side school. The land is already bought so why not use that instead of buying more expensive property? Why is the Washington school being closed? It is old but built and safe. Shortly Lincoln and the new school will be filled up. Washington is available by foot to a big group of pupils.

Why not find a good school plan and built several the same? Right now we need space not fancy schools.

Salaries must go up and we need good teachers; that everyone knows. But if this poor planning goes on many of us will have to give up our homes because of taxes. Do you want Appleton to be a ghost town?

Driver in Fatal Crash Gets Jail Term; Appeals Verdict

Thomas J. Lubeck, 24, Janesville, whom a 12-man Outagamie County Court jury April 7 found guilty of negligent homicide, Friday afternoon was sentenced to one year in jail.

However, County Judge Gustave J. Keller stayed execution of the sentence after Lubeck's attorney filed an appeal to Circuit Court. No date was set for the Circuit Court appearance.

Judge Keller, had ordered that because of his clear record, Lubeck, a college student, could serve the year sentence under Huber Law in the Rock County jail. Janesville is in Rock County.

Lubeck remains free under $1,000 bond pending the appeal.

Negligent homicide charges were brought against Lubeck after his car crashed headon into an auto on U.S. 10, a mile west of Appleton, last Memorial Day, resulting in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Krebsbach of Manitowoc.

Lubeck was living in Appleton at the time of the accident.

Proxmire Says Papandreou Fate Concern of U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Friday he has asked the State Department to express its concern to King Constantine of Greece over the fate of Greek political figure Andreas Papandreou.

Proxmire said Papandreou had distinguished himself as an economist at Harvard and the University of California before returning to Greece and entering political life there. He also served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Escalation of War Predicted

will not be surprised if more than a half-million U.S. troops are required, compared with the 470,000-man level now scheduled by year's end.

Among the war policy critics, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., made clear he is not toning down his dissent. McGovern, whose critical speech touched off a Senate uproar over the propriety of Westmoreland's mission home, wrote a constituent:

'Closer and Closer'

"My view is that we should not surrender or pull out, but we should quit sending in more and more troops and bombing closer and closer to the Chinese frontier until we finally force the other side into the kind of total commitment that would require an endless multitude of American soldiers going into Asia for the rest of our lives."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was disappointed Westmoreland did not emphasize "the struggle to provide a better life for the people" of South Vietnam.

"I endorse Gen. Westmoreland's call for support of our fighting men in Vietnam," Kennedy said. "But there is a distinction between giving full backing to our courageous fighting men and holding differences in view over our policy in Vietnam."

Westmoreland, resting at the home of relatives in Fayetteville, N.C., heads back toward Southeast Asia today. He planned a stop in Palm Springs, Calif., for a visit with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Then he will proceed to Hawaii for a conference with his boss, Adm. U.S.G. Sharp, Pacific commander in chief.

Your Problems

Reservist Angry Over Bank's Insistence on Note Co-Signer

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 24, married and have one child. Last week I went to a bank to borrow money. I wanted to buy a new car. My credit is A-1, and everything checked out fine. Then I mentioned that I was a member of a reserve unit. The banker gave me a fishy eye and said, "Reserve unit, eh? Well, you'll have to get a co-signer for this loan."

I explained I didn't want a co-signer. I want to be solely responsible for my financial obligations. The banker then quoted a law saying any man who gets called to active duty may be temporarily relieved of his debts. His last words fractured me. He said, "If you get called up we would be stuck for the money until you got back."

I'm so burned up I can hardly see straight. Why should a loyal American who is serving his country by joining a reserve unit be treated this way? — Can't See It

Dear Can't: The law that says a service man is temporarily relieved of his financial obligations was designed to help, not hurt, men in uniform. If you don't want a co-signer, go to a bank that does not require one. And more power to you, fella, I like your spirit of independence.

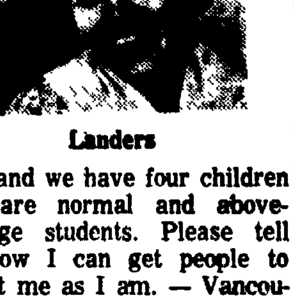
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have always been high-strung and nervous. A few years ago I had a breakdown and spent several months in a private mental hospital. I still see my doctor because he gives me self-confidence.

My question is this: When friends know you have been hospitalized for mental illness, why do they treat you as if you are some sort of an oddball? I try to be relaxed and behave in a normal manner, but I have the feeling that people are always analyzing me and looking for signs of abnormal behavior.

The only friends I am truly at ease with are those who also have had emotional breakdowns.

My husband is a wonderful man and we have four children who are normal and above-average students. Please tell me how I can get people to accept me as I am. — Vancouver



Landers

Dear Van: Your central problem is lack of confidence and an over-active imagination. What you see in others is a reflection of your own insecurity. When you become truly secure you will no longer be concerned about what others are thinking.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read the lovely letter from the woman who made her husband's retirement years the happiest years of their married life.

Have you noticed that the people who make the best of difficult situations enjoy life the most? It's too bad people so often marry and then try to change each other. Women are guilty of this more often than men.

When I complained to my mother, early in our marriage, that my husband left his underwear and sox on the floor, she said, "Pick them up and shut up about it. It takes less energy than nagging him."

I took her advice and I am sure it has saved many an argument. Please tell young wives that we must be flexible enough to put up with less than perfection in those we love. — Ruth

Dar Ruth: You told them. And beautifully, too. Your mother's advice sounds like a line out of this column. I've been saying the same thing for years.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 21.13, DEDICATIONS AND RESERVATIONS, OF CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE OF THE RECODIFIED ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF APPLETON BY RECREATING SECTION 21.13 (1)(c).

The Common Council of the City of Appleton do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That Section 21.13 (1) (c) of Chapter Twenty-one of the Municipal Code of the City of Appleton, relating to dedications and reservations, is hereby recreated to read:

(c) Public Sites and Open Spaces. In order that adequate open spaces and sites for public uses may be properly located and preserved as the community develops; and in order that the cost of providing the public school, park, and recreation sites and facilities necessary to serve the additional families brought into the community by subdivision development may be most equitable apportioned on the basis of the additional need created by the individual subdivision development, the following provisions are established:

1. Reservation of Potential Sites. In the design of the plat, consideration shall be given to the adequate provision of and correlation with such public sites or open areas. Where it is determined by the Plan Commission that a portion of the plat is required for such public sites or open spaces, the subdivider may be required to reserve such area for a period not to exceed three years, after which the City shall either acquire the property or release the reservation.

2. Dedication of Sites. Within the corporate limits of the City, where feasible and compatible with the comprehensive plan for development of the community, the sub-divider shall provide and dedicate to the public adequate land to provide for the school, park, and rceeration needs of the subdivision.

The amount of land to be provided shall be determined on the basis of an amount of land equal in value to $120.00 per residential lot created by the subdivision to be used for school purposes, and $80.00 per residential lot created by the subdivision to be used for park and recreation purposes. Such value shall be determined by the City Assessor on the basis of full and fair market value of the land as unimproved and unsubdivided residential property. If the owner is not satisfied with such appraisal, he may appeal such determination, in which case an appraisal board consisting of one appraiser selected by the City at its own expense, one selected by the property owner at his own expense, and a third selected by the two other appraisers at City eypense, shall determine the value.

3. Proportionate Payment in Lieu of Dedication. Where such dedication is not feasible or compatible with the comprehensive plan, the subdivider shall in lieu thereof pay to the City a fee equivalent to the value of the required dedication. Such fee shall be distributed as follows:

A. $120.00 per residential lot created by the subdivision to be held in a non-lapsing fund for the benefit of the school district or districts in which the plat lies, on the basis of proper apportionment between districts where the plat is more than one district, and to be made available to the appropriate district or districts upon their request.

B. $80.00 per residential lot created by the subdivision to be placed in a non-lapsing fund to be used for park and recreation area development.

Such fees shall be used exclusively for immediate or future site acquisition or capital improvement.

No payment shall be required for a lot, created by the subdivision of land under this Ordinance, on which a residential structure already exists, or which is a residual parcel in excess of 10 acres and not intended for immediate sale or other conveyance.

Payment may be in a lump sum or 50 per cent paid at the time of plat approval and the balance to be paid within one year, such deferred payment to be guaranteed by surety bond or other satisfactory financial guarantee to the City.

Where a lot or parcel, for which payment has once been made, is further divided, payment shall be required only for the additional lots or parcels created.

The required payment shall be made before the certification of approval may be affixed to the final plat.

4. Determination of Feasibility. The determination as to the feasibility of dedication shall be made by the City Plan Commission. The subdivider shall however have the option of choosing to make payment in lieu of the dedication.

Section 2. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication.

The Parking Commission reports and recommends that:

1. The request of Postmaster Francis Sumnicht for temporary free parking from 6:00 A.M. to 10:00 A.M. for 16 vehicles along the south side of the lower level of the West Ramp be approved, for the period of the College Avenue reconstruction.

3. The remaining meters on the north and south side of Johnston Street between Morrison and Durkee Streets be converted to a one hour time limit for the duration of the College Avenue reconstruction.

4.The Common Council reconsider the decision to install a gate-cashier type of control system and return to the original proposal to install parking meters in the Soldier's Square Ramp, for the following reasons: — REFERRED TO THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

a. The problem that cashier - type control produces in restricting exits to above the second level.

b. The present cost figures far exceed the original estimate of $8-$10,000. The present cost estimates range from $30-$40,000.

c. The original design was for metered parking, and the involved traffic flow problems which are appearing now emphasize this fact.

Eighty-Eight Beauties Vie For Title

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-9:30 Channels 11-6-9 — The Fifteenth Annual Miss International Beauty Finals from the Civic Auditorium, Long Beach, Calif., co-hosted by Eva Gabor and Eddie Albert. Eighty-eight contestants from 50 states and 38 countries around the world will compete in the largest beauty contest of the year. With entrants from Tahiti to Iceland the pageant telecast will show all of the lovely ladies with concentration on the 15 finalists.

* * *

9-10 Channels 2-7-12 — Bette Davis, resigned to monster roles in movies these days, exhibits her fangs on Gunsmoke, which has her doing everything but chewing up the barn. She plays an embittered widow whose gunslinger husband met his end at the gallows. To get even with Marshal Dillon, she kidnaps Miss Kitty and lures him to her ranch. There, her sons have been busy hammering a scaffold from which Matt will swing. It's a macabre but delicious performance by Miss Davis as she pitifully talks to her husband's grave and carefully plans Miss Kitty's and the marshal's last meal together. (R)

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7-12 — It's the Honeymooners in another musical comedy on The Jackie Gleason Show with Ralph and Norton deciding to show their wives who is the boss but ending up doing their own dishes as their spouses take wing. Musical numbers include a spiffy bowling number for openers and a sassy satire, "King of the Castle," with the boys bragging how they'll rule the roost. Also listenable, and amusing, is Kramden's lament, "Alice Come Home." (R)

* * *

7-7:30 Channels 4-5 — For a moment or two there is some joyful bliss in the cackling of heroine Patricia Crowley and her pal Shirley Mitchell on Please Don't Eat the Daisies Miss Crowley has written a story for one of those men's magazines called Romp. But soon the show bogs down into just plain noise when it's discovered she has been writing under a man's name. (R)

7:30-8 Channels 4-5 — Get Smart is at its sassy best with "The Island of the Darned." Those durable sleuths Don Adams and Barbara Felton are in the Caribbean tracking down a former Nazi who kills Control agents and stuffs them as if they were dead elephants. Harold Gould is the meanie but you'll probably get most of your laughs from a jazz band gone native after its plane (on a State Dept. tour) crashlands on the "paradise." (R)

8-11:15 Channels 4-5 — "Donovan's Reef" on Saturday Night at the Movies is one of those rough 'n' tumble comedies which John Wayne does so well. He and his brawling buddy, Lee Marvin, and doctor pal, Jack Warden, are adrift on a South Seas island with Dorothy Lamour, Cesar Romero and eventually Elizabeth Allen. There's not much plot (something to do with misland inheritances) but plenty of childish fun. (R)

* * *

10-11 Channel 11 — ABC Stage '67 repeats "Dare I Weep, Dare I Mourn," a taut, suspenseful tale set against the Cold War, filmed in Berlin and England, and based on a story by John LeCarre, who wrote 'The Spy Who Came In From the Cold." James Mason gives a fine performance as a mousy Englishman whose life is run and ruined by the spinster cousins with whom he lives. (R)

Importance of Twiggy Remains a Mystery

Teens Seem to Get Cockney's Message; Oldsters Suspect Profitable 'Put On'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

First of a Series

NEW YORK (AP) — The Twiggy phenomenon is one of those periodic eruptions of carefully manufactured teen-age enthusiasm with roots in the old Frank Sinatra and Beatles hysteria.

As always, it is a mystery wrapped in enigma and you can get a good argument started on the subject any time. Why is a 17-year-old Cockney girl with a string-bean-shaped 91-pound frame and a cute, freckle-covered face dominated by heavily made up eyes currently the center of passionate attention by press and broadcasting, a cover girl on a magazine that usually honors statesman and making more money this year than the prime minister of Great Britain?

Presumably the nation's teenagers get Twiggy's message. And Thursday night ABC, the network that is particularly interested in catering to the tastes of the under 35 audience, presented the first of a series of three close-ups of the girl born Leslie Hornby. This one focused on her New York experiences.

We saw a lot of Twiggy.

But the mystery of Twiggy's emergence as a teen-age idol remained intact, at least to an older viewer in search of clues.

The half hour program, initial tentative plunge into television by a fashion photographer named Bert Stern, was no help.

The program was the occasion for the premiere of an incredible ballad, "I'll Remember You, Twiggy," furthering the impression that Twiggy, the publicity, the excitement and even the program are all part of a gigantic, and profitable put-on.

Farm Safety Expert

Former County Agent Announces Retirement

Randall C. Swanson, widely-known farm safety expert and former Outagamie County agricultural agent, has revealed he will retire in June from his job with the University of Wisconsin's agricultural engineering department in Madison.

Swanson, 64, served as Outagamie County's farm agent from Jan. 18, 1934, until Dec. 31, 1938.

Officially, he is an associate professor, attached to the university's agriculture department. But he is most widely-known for the Wisconsin farm safety program which he helped organize in 1945.

Operate Farm

Swanson also helped organize and is secretary of the National Institute of Farm Safety, a group of safety professionals.

When he retires from his job on June 15, Swanson said he plans to operate his 320-acre farm near Middleton and to act as a safety consultant for various farm machinery companies.

A native of Stillwater, Minn., Swanson graduated from the University of Minnesota agricultural school in 1926. He taught high school in Ohio and at schools in Stanley and Menomonie before taking the farm agent's post in Outagamie County. Next, he became agricultural agent in Milwaukee County, a post he held until 1943.

During World War II, he promoted the resale of surplus farm machinery and developed one of the biggest "victory garden" projects in the United States.

After becoming concerned with 168 farm accident deaths in Wisconsin during 1945, he helped push for the start of a farm safety program. The legislature appropriated $10,000 and started an educational program. The first farm safety specialist appointed for the state was Swanson.

Use a Balloon for a Ball For Outdoor or Indoor Fun

BY CAPPY DICK

Balloon volley ball can be played almost anywhere outdoors if the weather is good, or indoors when it is bad. If there are just two players, one balloon will do If there are several players, two or three balloons may be used, all at the same time.

If you have a volley ball net, use it, but a rope stretched across the indoor or outdoor playing space will do nicely.

The referee starts the game by tossing the balloon into the air near the rope or net. If there are to be several balloons in use, he tosses up one after the other until all are in play.

When the balloon is in the air each player tries to bat it with his fist across the rope or net into the territory of the opposing player. The players bat it back and forth until somebody lets the balloon fall to the ground on his side of the rope. That scores a point for the other side. The balloon is then tossed into the air again by the referee.

The players must hit the balloon with their fists, not their open hands. The reason is that if the hand is used it is easier to guide the course of the balloon.

Bat Balloon Over Rope

A player may continue to hit the balloon until he gets it near enough to the rope or net to bat it across. The game ends when one side or the other has won five points.

Homer Was Thinking of This Hand

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It isn't generally known by professors of literature, but the fact is that Homer had a certain kind of bridge hand in mind when he wrote about Scylla and Charybdis. If you try too hard to avoid one of them you get it in the neck from the other.

When today's hand came along a few weeks ago in the annual contest for the Harold S. Vanderbilt Cup, Norman Kay and Edgar Kaplan steered to a slam in notrump rather than in hearts to avoid the danger of an opening spade lead through South's king. This exposed them to another danger.

West led the ten of spades, and East took the ace and returned the queen to declarer's king. Kay led a heart to dummy's king and continued with the queen of hearts. West discarded a spade and then drew another spade when Kay led a low heart to the ace.

Club Danger

The spots suggested that West had started with only four spades, and West's reluctance to throw a diamond suggested that he had only four cards in that suit Since West had started with a singleton in hearts, it seemed to Kay that West held four clubs.

At six hearts North would need only three club tricks, but at six notrump declarer needed four club tricks. This would be impossible by normal play of the clubs if West had started with four clubs to the jack..

Kay sighed and led the ten of clubs from his hand. West played low, and Kay let the ten of clubs ride for a finesse. When this held the trick, Kay could lead a club to the queen, return to his hand with the nine of hearts and then run the rest of the clubs. Our modern Odysseus was now safe at home.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S K 6 3 H A 9 5 2 D 10 C A K 10 9 6. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs. The hand is not worth a jump to three clubs after partner has opened with one diamond. It is clearly worth a jump if partner opens with one heart because you have so fine a fit for hearts. If partner had opened with one spade you would have a very close question, and most experts would probably bid only two rather than three clubs.

Heloise

Dear Folks:

Here's a good thought to keep in mind the next time you get a new pet, especially if it's a puppy or a kitten.

Recently we bought a little dog and for the first time in my life, I happened to think of asking for something that belonged to the dog, since he was changing families! I asked for either the pillow he slept on, or an old blanket or toy . . .

Heloise

It worked wonders!

Naturally all pets are frightened when they are moved to new surroundings and new noises. This one little blanket I got, let him know that part of his old home was in his new one. One woman wrote that her husband's old sock was the answer.

So next time you get a pet, try to bring along something he is familiar with. Then he won't be so lonesome.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

In the morning, after our husbands and children are gone, some of us neighbors visit and drink coffee. I printed, framed and hung the following poem near my kitchen table where we usually sit:

"Although you find our house a mess
Come in — sit down — converse
It doesn't always look like this
Some days it's even worse."

H. S.

Dear Heloise:

Rolled cookies are easier to make if the dough is first placed in empty, clean tin cans (size depending on desired cookie size) and refrigerated until firm

Open the bottom of the can and use it to push the dough through, and slice off your desired thickness.

Saves time and cleaning up

Kaye

Dear Heloise:

For very attractive match boxes for that coffee or end table:

Put glue on top of penny match boxes, then stick small, shell macaroni on it. Let the macaroni dry, then spray with metallic paint.

Believe it or not, it looks attractive and sure dresses up that often needed item.

Mary Brown

Dear Heloise:

If you accidentally scuff your shoes real bad, you can fasten the jagged piece of leather down with a bit of colorless fingernail polish.

When dry, polish over the scuff and it will never be noticed.

Mrs. Lillian Herman

Dear Heloise:

Would you like a "silent summons" for your children when they are playing outside?

Call them in at night by putting on your front porch light, or teach them to come in immediately when the street lights come on.

Mary Lown

Now, that's going to save lots of mother's voices, and get those children in before dark so they won't get hurt.

You're a peach.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Personal luggage for a trip was lessened when I began filling spare handbags and shoes (inside) with small items that had previously required an extra case.

Such as hose and underwear in the shoes, cosmetics in the extra handbag.

Bill by Rogers Forms Unit for Redistricting

Sets Commission To Devise Plan After '70 Census

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The creation of a special standing commission to reapportion the state following the 1970 federal census has been proposed by Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna.

The eight man, bipartisan commission comprised of state political, legislative and judicial leaders would redistrict state legislative and congressional districts as required in the state Constitution.

The bill is authored by the man the Democrats charge is the intended victim of a "gerrymandering" attempt by the state Senate.

A Republican-backed amendment authored by Sen. Raymond Johnson, R-Eau Claire, and backed by Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, would have reshuffled Outagamie County's three Assembly districts in such a way, Democrats charge, that would have cost Rogers his now safely-Democratic seat in the next election.

Amendment Withdrawn

The amendment, adopted by the Republican controlled Senate, was withdrawn after Democrats threatened a legal suit to block its enactment.

Following the withdrawal of the Johnson amendment, which had been explained as an attempt to create two purely urban and one rural Assembly district in the county, Lorge introduced his own amendment for the county which he represents in the upper house.

Rogers' reapportionment commission bill creates a body which would be comprised of the chairmen of the two major political parties, one senator and one assemblyman from each of the two major parties of each house of the legislature, and two justices of the state Supreme Court chosen by its chief justice.

The commission must develop a reapportionment plan for presentation to the legislature as soon as possible following the completion of the 1970 federal census.

The plan must have the approval of six of the eight members of the commission.

The commission may also make recommendations on reapportionment when a legislative district is affected by a population change totaling at least 10 per cent, and due to a single cause such as construction, a natural disaster or the loss of a natural or material resource.

Steiger Calls For More Study Of Skill Needs

Must Win War of Human Resource Investments

OSHKOSH — "There is a critical need to insure this country does all it can to win the war of investment in human resources," according to Sixth District Rep. William A. Steiger.

Speaking here this morning to the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan District convention of Toastmasters International, Steiger indicated that jobs now require more mental capability, fewer physical skills, a higher educational attainment at the entry level, and greater versatility or adaptability in the worker over his productive lifetime. "We must keep up in our education and job placement with the changing technological society that we now live in," he said.

Steiger said the Council of Economic Advisers has estimated that the loss in Gross National Product from unemployment in excess of 4 per cent "runs at an annual rate of $50 billion. This cost to our society and economy compels attention and action."

Manpower Study

The Oshkosh legislator said the select Subcommittee on Labor, of which he is a member, of the Committee on Education and Labor, has started an intensive study of the manpower needs and training programs in this country. He said that among other reasons the study is necessary, "it is estimated that almost 18.3 million more persons will be gainfully employed in 1975 than were employed in 1964.

"The average increase in employment during this period will equal 1.7 million persons compared to an average increase of 1.1 million in the period 1960-65. For this reason, we must have trained manpower, those with the technological skills to match the technological advancement."

Steiger said there are now over nine separate manpower programs at the federal level administered by four departments with expenditures in excess of $2 billion. "These programs need to be coordinated and directed so that we are sure the problem of matching vocational and technical as well as specialized education with the available jobs is mastered."

Steiger Appointment Commission Accepts Academy Applications

WASHINGTON — A special commission handling appointments in the Sixth District for Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh, announced today it is accepting applications for appointment to the four military academies.

For classes beginning in June, 1968, the commission is allotted two appointments for the Naval Academy, two for West Point and 10 for the Merchant Marine academy. None are currently open for the Air Force academy.

The commission decided at a recent meeting to make appointments on the basis of college board entrance examination scores, a form application filled out by each applicant and individual interviews. Civil service examinations are commonly used, but only by choice of individual congressmen.

Applicants may ask to be considered by notifying Steiger at 1038 Longworth House Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20515.

Shopko Starts Construction On Town of Menasha Store

PSC Approval Granted Friday; Completion Expected in October

MENASHA — Construction has started on the new SHOPKO Discount Department Store in the Town of Menasha.

James H. Ruben, president of Discount Development Co., Green Bay, said plans for the 80,000 square foot store were approved Friday by the State Industrial Commission and a building permit will be obtained Monday.

The store will occupy a 15-acre tract on the west side of State 47 near Valley Road. The building will be one-story, face brick, block and glass construction and will be air-conditioned.

Parking will be provided for 800 cars.

Ruben said they anticipate being ready for operation in October.

Departments include ladies, men's and children's ready-to-wear, drugs, cosmetics, jewelry, toys, records, books, shoes, paint, hardware, housewares, auto accessories and a supermarket.

The store, one of the Shopko group, will be the fourth in Northeastern Wisconsin.

The company also operates the Copps' stores in Oshkosh and Manitowoc and the Shopko store at Green Bay.

Explosive Growth Here

"There was no question in our mind about the Fox Cities being the location of our next store," Reuben said, "because of its already explosive growth and its great potential growth.

"We researched the area for a year and a half before selecting this site which, in our opinion, is the best obtainable to serve all seven Fox Cities communities."

Mrs. Westmoreland Made Up Mind Early Of What She Wanted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Katherine Van Deusen was 9 years old when she met William C. Westmoreland — a neighbor and a second lieutenant just out of West Point.

"I really adored him—he was going with my Scout leader at the time—so when I was 11 I proposed. He told me, 'I'll wait until you grow up,'" she recalled Friday.

Wait he did.

"When I was 19 I was visiting my grandmother in Fayetteville (N.C.) when he came to Ft. Bragg," said Westmoreland's wife.

"I called him and he asked if I was grown up. I said 'Come over and see.' We were married six months later."

From Winnebago Plankton, to Algae, Lake Fly and Sturgeon

Lawrence Biologist Unravels Underwater Life

BY CLIFF MILLER

APPLETON — Lake Winnebago's high population of lake flies and the speed with which its sturgeon grow have been traced by a Lawrence University biologist to the inefficient eating habits of a barely visible kin of the lobster.

Dr. Sumner Richman, associate professor of biology and chairman of the university's biology department, has been fishing in Lake Winnebago for the past six years

Wild Fishing Gear

But when he goes down to the lake in his rowboat, it is with a collection of scientific gadgetry that would make the wildest assortment of conventional fishing gear look simple.

There is the electric eye device that tells him how far and how brightly the sunlight is penetrating the water.

His trolling rig is an elaborate metal scoop fitted with propellers and a mouth that opens or closes at his wish. A gauge measures the amount of water passing through the net as the tiny organisms are trapped, and he can take a census based on any given quantity of water at a pre-set depth.

And if the ordinary fisherman thinks he has troubles when he returns with his catch and faces cleaning it, he would sympathize with Dr. Richman.

The beastie that is most interesting to the avid scientist is a type of plankton that feeds on the lake's large crop of algae.

The plankton is a primitive type of shellfish called a copepod, whose scientific name is Diaptomus Oregonensis.

Dr. Richman has pursued and captured the tiny animal in large numbers, concentrating his work in the northeastern corner of Lake Winnbeago, in the vicinity of High Cliff State Park.

From the lake, he has brought his catches back to an efficient and intricately equipped laboratory where he says the real work begins.

His laboratory includes tanks equipped for storage, aeration and temperature control of water taken from the lake, along with other equipment designed to make it possible to bring lake conditions into the laboratory.

A key instrument is a calorimeter, in which copepods are burned under controlled conditions to determine the amount of energy they have drawn from their food.

The device is small, making large numbers of copepods unnecessary. Still, one sample contains an average of 1,000 specimens, and it takes a day and a half to prepare them for the test.

Carbon 14

Richman also uses Carbon 14, which is introduced into the natural lake algae under controled conditions and the algae fed to the animals. They pick up radioactivity from the algae, and the biologist can tell how much they have eaten.

These intricate and time-consuming experiments have led to conclusions which, while still in preliminary stages, Dr. Richman has stated in terms relating the tiny copepods and the lake's famous — or infamous — summer algae to other creatures such as lake flies and sturgeon.

Dr. Richman has found the copepod apparently becomes less efficient in its eating habits when it is confronted with an overly abundant supply of food, such as exists during times when the green algae is in "bloom" during the summer.

Rather than becoming more abundant itself and controlling the algae, the copepod passes excess algae through its system and allows it to live out its normal life span, Dr. Richman believes. Then, the dead algae sinks to the lake bottom, where it is eaten by the larvae of lake flies.

The "normal" life cycle of a lake fly from egg through adulthood and death, he continues, is one year in other places where they have been studied. In Lake Winnebago, because of the abundant dead matter to feed the larvae, the flies complete a cycle in three weeks, studies have shown.

Moving up the scale of creatures to the sturgeon, Dr. Richman has found this fish, too, lives a more abundant life —and the reason is the lake fly.

Stomachs of sturgeon taken from the lake are filled sometimes with virtually 100 per cent lake fly larvae, he says. As a result, a sturgeon in Lake Winnebago grows at a rate he calls "almost phenomenal," faster than anywhere else the rate has been measured.

But, he warns against changing the balance without great study and caution. Whenever a link is removed to create a gap in a natural chain or organisms that depend on each other — the lake fly, for instance — "almost without exception something comes in to fill it which is less desirable," he warns.

One possible answer might be to add rather than remove something in the Winnebago chain. The sturgeon might be a possibility, Richman told a questioner when he addressed a Neenah service club recently.

But jumping to quick conclusions is outside the realm of good science, and Dr. Richman is continuing his studies. His ultimate aim, and one which he says is never reached to perfection, is to be able to reach an understanding of Lake Winnebago, "to unscramble a dynamic situation," is his way of describing it — so he can conceive of a model composed of the basic elements of the lake life and make predictions about it.

He says he is far from such a complete understanding, and because any lake changes constantly — "begins to die from the day it is born" — he knows his goal will never be reached.

But, so far, his discoveries have taken him to Warsaw, Poland, and Prague, Czechoslovakia, to discuss them with other scientists. Then it is back to his laboratory, and his lake.

His studies are continuing under his second National Science Foundation grant. While the theories about lake flies and algae are of immediate interest to residents around the lake, the studies aim for a broader understanding of the exchange of energy up the chain from the sunlight entering the lake, through the algae and into the higher organisms.

It is a field of growing importance in a world worried about how it will feed ever larger future populations.

Dr. Summer Richman fishes in Lake Winnebago with a wide collection of scientific instruments which help him to study the make-up of the lake. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Road Safety And Insurance Rates Related

If Highway Bills Fail, Costs to Rise, Commissioner Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The highway safety bills heading for a showdown in the Legislature are directly related to the price of automobile insurance for thousands of Wisconsin motorists in the future, Insurance Commissioner Robert D. Haase said today.

If those bills fail, and the highway accident and loss ratio remains high, the cost will be borne in auto insurance rate schedules for many years ahead, the chief of the state insurance agency said in a message published in the organ of the Wisconsin Association of Insurance Agents.

Haase said bluntly that insurance coverage prices can be reduced only if:

—The state removes poor drivers from the roads through the proposal for periodic reexamination of motorists.

—The state "removes the rattle-traps" from the roads through comprehensive and annual motor vehicle inspection requirements.

—The law requires all new drivers to submit to road tests, as well as classroom instruction, to prepare themselves for driving responsibilities.

—The state eliminates drunken drivers through a requirement for chemical testing of drivers arrested for intoxication

—The state prevents teen-age drivers from driving from town to town at night in search of beer bars, through a uniform age for the legal consumption of beer

—The state provides a better assurance that irresponsible drivers on major highways are apprehended, through the establishment of a more adequate corps of state traffic patrolmen.

"This is everybody's problem," the official warned, "For automobile insurance rates are high and they will tend to get higher until we take positive steps which will actually reduce the number of accidents."

Five Lawrence Students Chosen For Field Study

Five Lawrence University students have been chosen for a summer program at the Associated Colleges of the Midwest Wilderness Field Station located in the Boundary Waters Canoe Area of the Superior National Forest.

They are: Barbara Adams, Hales Corners, limnology; Criss Hartzell, Clarendon Hills, Ill., zoology; Sandra Bonsett, Hanover, Ind., botany; Sandra Butler, Peshtigo, limnology; and John Petersen, Lake Zurich, Ill., zoology.

Forty-seven Lawrentians have been chosen for the program in earlier seasons. The field station has been in operation since 1962.

The purpose of the Wilderness Field Station program is to provide students with field experience and training in biology and geology. Study sessions are of five or nine weeks duration. The programs of the field station are designed to take advantage of a primitive area with varied natural environments in which much remains to be learned about geological features and ecology.

Lightning Hits Pole

NEENAH—Lightning struck a utility pole in the 400 block of Quarry Lane at 9:55 p.m. Friday, but apparently did not cause any damage. Neenah firemen were called to the scene but reported no fire.

Members of the Neenah-Menasha Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America sang out for wives and guests at their Charter Night program at the Neenah Eagles Club Saturday evening. From left, Gene Hammen, Mike Eifler, Gerry Burns and Bill Kutcher entertain with a rendition of "Keep America Singing," barbershopper's theme song.

Revised Data On Utility Tie Ready 'Soon'

MENASHA — Revised data supporting the bid of Menasha and Kaukauna for permission to connect their electric utilities should be ready "quite soon," according to Melvin F. Crowley, attorney for the joint interconnection committee and the Menasha Water & Light Utility.

Crowley said this morning that he is unable to say how long before revisions by Mead & Hunt, Inc., engineering consultants to the committee, will be completed.

The time will determine how soon the Public Service Commission resumes its hearings of the Menasha-Kaukauna case, which adjourned at Madison for the third time Wednesday after PSC staff engineers asked to have the information revised.

The data has been described as basic to the case being presented by Menasha and Kaukauna to convince the PSC the project should be approved. Crowley said, however, "our position is not changed and we welcome the suggestion of the commission and will comply with it."

While the revisions might materially alter predictions of how the interconnection would function. PSC officials said the result would probably be to put the proposal in still more favorable light when it originally was drafted.

But, Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. officials, who have persistently questioned the proposal while maintaining an official stance neither for nor against it, privately expressed glee at the PSC request.

St. Mary High to Present 'A Man for All Seasons'

MENASHA — "A Man For All Seasons," one of the drama hits for the better part of this decade in New York City and London, will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday and Sunday, May 7 in the St. Mary School auditorium.

It is the Class of 1967's way of honoring Msgr. Joseph Becker, who is this year celebrating his 40th anniversary of ordination.

Dennis Runnoe plays Sir Thomas More, the central figure in the story about a man whose conscience simply would not let him reconcile Henry VIII's divorce from Queen Catherine and the Pope's refusal to condone it.

As Common Man, Gregory Haldeman plays the character Robert Bolt, playwright, devised to prevent the audience from identifying with More. Common Man launches and connects dozens of short scenes in the play — leading the audience in a theatrical sketch which swaggers with some subtlety around [illegible] various types of self-[illegible] behavior.

Phil Daniel plays Cardinal Wolsey; Jeff Wirth, Thomas Cromwell; Gary Britzke, Signor Chapuys; Milton Wittmann, William Roper; Mike Gage, King Henry the VIII; Barbara Stoegbauer, is a woman and John Vander Heyden is the Archbishop Cramer.

Sister Mary Regine, SSND is producer of the play which brought fame to Paul Scofield, English actor, both in his homeland and in this country.

Bolt borrowed some from other playrights and may be familiar to some theatregoers as author of the screenplay for Lawrence of Arabia, and Dr. Zhivago. A Man For All Seasons is now having a top film run opening this same week in the Fox Valley area.

It is a play with a message — and this is the author's: "If we lived in a state where virtue was profitable — common sense would make us good and greed would make us saintly. And, [illegible]

Seymour Firm

New Bus Line to Link Appleton to Waupaca

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The inauguration of passenger bus service by Seymour Transfer Lines, Inc., of Seymour between Appleton and Waupaca and Appleton and Black Creek has been approved by the Public Service Commission over the objections of other carriers.

The firm now provides passenger service between Waupaca and Green Bay on Highway 54 and points west to La Crosse by way of Stevens Point and Wisconsin Rapids.

Serve Black Creek

The effect of the additional authority will be to provide service between Green Bay and Waupaca by way of Appleton and to provide a service between Black Creek and Appleton that is not now available from any other carrier, the regulatory agency said.

Greyhound now operates between Appleton and Waupaca, but it did not oppose the application.

Firm Objects

An objecting company, Inter-County Motor Coach Lines, now provides service with one round trip a day between Rhinelander and Appleton, connecting with its Green Bay-Waupaca route at New London.

Wisconsin - Michigan Coaches Inc., another objecting company, provides a service between Green Bay and Eau Claire by way of Shawano, Wausau and Chippewa Falls. It expressed concern that the Seymour firm might change its schedules at Stevens Point and establish an interconnection with Greyhound there that would interfere with the Green Bay-Eau Claire run. But the commission said that is a remote contingency.

The commission said the new line would allow residents of Waupaca, Fremont, Weyauwega and environs, and other points between Waupaca and Appleton to take a bus into Appleton in the morning and to return in the evening.

"This would be convenient for shoppers and others who do not desire to stay overnight in Appleton. Greyhound does not offer a service which will accommodate such passengers. A local service would also be offered between Black Creek and Appleton," the commission's approving order said.

Claim Mayor Misrepresents Needs of Summer School

Human Rights Council

Towns Without Negroes Are Prey To Generalizations, Speaker Says

The director of the Federal Housing Administration for the State of Wisconsin told the Fox Valley Human Rights Council that many Wisconsin communities, now troubled with segregated ghettos, had no groups of concerned people determined to prevent it.

Fear Generalities

Lawrence S. Katz, spoke to the council in the Redi-Room of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. Thursday, and pointed out that a town like Appleton, which has no Negro families, is prey to fears based on generalizations.

He said there are many middle-class Negroes owning and maintaining homes surrounded with flowers, out of which comes the girl on her way to business college and the boy aspiring to a higher education.

Market Rises

Katz, who formerly was attorney for the Industrial Commission and president of the Metropolitan Construction Co. of Milwaukee, said one of the "most persistent and ill-founded fears is that property values go down if a Negro moves into the neighborhood. When this happens it is because white families press the panic button and dump their property on the market."

Katz described an area in Milwaukee, north of Capitol Drive, where in 1962 there were 89 Negro families living in "attractive homes valued at from $15,000 to $30,000. White families moved in, knowing that Negro families were there, and property values moved up because the market went up." Today, he said, "the attitude of both Negroes and white there is essentially that of white neighbors toward each other, indifference."

In conclusion Katz said, "Maybe we have to make up for 100 years of oppression, and if we are Catholic, Jew or Protestant, practice our religion by making the Negro welcome when he comes to Appleton."

Sen. Gaylord Nelson expounds his views on preservation of the state's natural resources during his keynote address at the 97th anniversary meeting of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters Friday night at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh. Appleton Board of Education Will Explain Fund Request to Council At Monday Night Session

Ronald Roberts, member of the Appleton Board of Education, and Lawrence University professor and athletic coach, today declared that Mayor George Buckley is misrepresenting Appleton's summer school need. The mayor branded a recent board request for $10,000 to reinstate a partial summer school program "an act of bad faith."

Roberts, chairman of the board's summer school committee, and other board members will appear before the council Monday night to explain their request.

Roberts pointed out that the mayor and council were advised in a Nov. 8 letter from Charles Buchanan, board president, that if more than $150,000 of the school budget was cut, summer school would be lost.

Budget Cut

"The budget was cut $200,000 and now, instead of trying to be of help in restoring a bare-bones summer school program, the mayor seems bent on wrecking the effort by misrepresenting the circumstances that surround the restoration of the token program which would cost the city $10,000," Roberts said.

Board members have said that $10,000 from the city with about $8,000 through summer school tuition fees would permit a summer school program, although not as complete as in other years. The Appleton Education Association also has backed the board's request.

"I feel the council wants to do what is best for Appleton; all I could ask for is an opportunity to make this proposal and hope for the best. However, the misleading comments by the mayor will make it difficult for any committee to act," Roberts said.

Won't grant Request

Buckley earlier was quoted as saying, "I don't think the council will grant this request." Last fall the council originally asked the board to cut $300,000 from its $5.6 million operating budget but later reduced the cut to $200,000.

Roberts emphasized that the Buchanan letter of last November outlined the probable loss in the school program if $50,000 were cut, if $100,000 were cut and if $150,000 were cut.

"A very strong point was made that if over $150,000 were cut, 'the educational program would be seriously impaired.' The summer school program was listed in this cut. The council cut $200,000," he concluded.

Fire in Parked Car One of Four Extinguished Friday

Appleton firemen were called about 6:15 p.m. Friday to extinguish a fire in a car parked on the second floor of H. C. Prange parking ramp.

The car, owned by Helen Renn, 310 N. Oneida St., had been parked in the ramp since about 4:45 p.m. Fire, apparently caused by a cigarette, was smoldering on the passenger's side of the front seat.

The department was called about 6:25 p.m. to extinguish a brush fire along the Soo Line tracks near Newberry Street east of the Telulah mill. The fire was apparently caused by a train, officials said.

A fire in a doghouse attached to a vacant garage was reported at 8:34 p.m. The property is owned by Tom Temple, 304 W. Parkway.

Authorities said the fire started in leaves placed on the doghouse for insulation. The fire had been extinguished by a neighbor before the trucks arrived

Fire trucks were sent to 327 W. College Ave. at 9:50 p.m. when rubbish was reported burning in a walkway at the Russell's Chocolate building. Firemen said hay had been thrown into the area and the fire apparently started from a cigarette.

Ship Trackmen Win, 87-40, Over Terrors

Romenesko Breaks AHS Record; Tierney, Simon Take Firsts

MANITOWOC — Thirteen first places and a slam in the 220 led the unbeaten Manitowoc Ships to an 87-40 dual track-meet win over Appleton Friday afternoon.

The elements seemed to come in a close third in the meet, as wind and cold controlled times and distances. Greg Gretz, powerful Manty weight man, turned in distances well below those of his previous record-setting efforts this year.

The Terrors won two events — the pole vault and the long jump. Cliff Tierney vaulted 11 feet, six inches for honors in the pole vault, while Simon took the

Run 2-Year Win Streak Over Commodores to 15; Kissane Fans 12 in Pitching Triumph

DECATUR, Ill. — Lefthanded hurler Dennis Kissane tamed Decatur on six hits to give the Appleton Foxes their initial Midwest League triumph of 1967, a 2-1 verdict.

The victory was the 15th straight by the Foxes over the Commodores in a 2-year span. The last time Appleton lost to Decatur was the final contest between the two clubs in 1965.

Both squads tallied single markers in the first inning and it remained a standoff until the ninth. In the Appleton half of the ninth, Gary Kirtlan led off with a single to center and went to second as Joe Monty walked. Ron Ellis then moved in to run for Kirtlan.

Catcher Chuck Brinkman then fouled out attempting to bunt. Jeff Kolb followed with a hard grounder to force Monty at second, but the attempted double play throw to first went into the ground and Ellis tallied the game-winning run.

Steals Second

The Foxes got on the scoreboard in the first when Jose Ortiz walked, stole second, went to third on a groundout and came home on Roy Radmaker's sacrifice fly to right.

The Commodores knotted the count at 1-all in their half of the inning. With two out and a runner on first, Len Horn grounded to Kolb whose throw to first was wide pulling Lentine off the bag. As Horn raced by Lentine tagged him but then dropped the ball allowing a run to score.

Decatur had two chances to break the tie in the fifth and sixth innings. The bases were loaded in the fifth with two out but cleanup hitter Horn grounded out to end the inning. In the sixth a single and double put runners on second and third with one out but Kissane bore down and struck out the next two batters.

The hosts stranded a total of 11 runners while Appleton left six.

Kissane walked only four and fanned 12, including two each in the first, second, third, fourth and sixth innings.

Kirtlan and Chuck Brinkman led the 8-hit assault on losing hurler Jim Moyer with two safeties.

3-Run Outburst In Third Inning Decided M-E Game

KAUKAUNA — A 3-run outburst in the third inning provided New London with a 4-2 Mid-Eastern Conference triumph over Kaukauna here Friday.

The hosts put together a hit, three walks, an error and safeties by Ted Huber and Bill Rieckmann for the three tallies.

Rick Gorges went the distance for the Bulldogs, yielding just two hits. He walked two and struck out six. His four wild pitches accounted for the Ghosts' only runs.

Rieckmann and Don Berglund each had a pair of hits to lead the Bulldogs' plate attack.

Both teams are now 1-1 in conference action.

New Leaders In Texas Open

Goalby Fires Lowest Round; Bob Charles Has Fast Finish

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bob Goalby, who is among the year's tournament winners, and Bob Charles, who's had a two-year dry spell, charged from back in the crowd Friday to share the lead at 138 after two rounds of the $100,000 Texas Open.

Goalby, a 36-year-old Palm Springs, Calif. pro, shot six birdies and got his only bogey while trying for one more birdie for a five-under par 66, the lowest round thus far in the tournament.

Charles birdied the last three holes of his round after finishing the 15th hole at even par. The fast finish of the New Zealander caught the gallery by surprise.

Leaders Fade

Chi Chi Rodriguez and Joe Campbell, the leaders after the first round with three-under 68s, faded. Campbell's game collapsed and his score ballooned to a 76, enabling him to make the cut by only one stroke.

Jerry Steelsmith, a 31-year-old Santa Barbara, Calif. pro, carded a 69 to go with his first-round 70. He was alone at 139.

Clay Stripped of His Championship After Oath Refusal

Lawyers Ready Fresh Tactics To Keep Cassius Out of Jail

By LAWRENCE LEE

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Cassius Clay's lawyers readied fresh tactics in their intricate offensive to save him from jail and a stiff fine for refusing to heed his draft call.

As 10 other draftees stepped forward to take the Army oath Friday, the 25-year-old Clay did not move, fulfilling his promise. He says that he is a Black Muslim minister by vocation and a boxer by avocation and that war contradicts the teachings of his faith.

The boxing world's reprisal was swift. The influential New York State Athletic Commission and the World Boxing Association stripped him of his world heavyweight title and announced they planned elimination tournaments to select his replacement.

Grimly running the gauntlet of waiting newsmen, Clay left the Houston Customs House, where the induction center is located, forged through a crowd of sympathetic Negro demonstrators and sped away in a black car.

Burn Papers

While Clay was undergoing his round of physical examinations, all of which he completed satisfactorily, five of the Negroes outside the Customs House burned papers they said were their draft cards. None was arrested.

Their chant of "Burn, baby, burn," changed to a defiant "Hell no, we won't go," as Clay drove off with his lawyers.

Lawyers Hayden Covington of New York and Quinnan Hodges of Houston told the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, La., Friday that they would appeal the ruling of U. S. District Court Judge Allen B. Hannay in Houston in refusing to hear Clay's suit challenging the composition of the Selective Service System. The suit says Negroes are underrepresented.

Virtually the same suit, which argues for his draft exemption as a minister, was to be filed again today in U. S. District Court in Houston, thus placing the same arguments before both courts at the same time.

U. S. Atty. Morton Susman of Houston said, "It will take us 30 to 60 days to prepare charges. This matter could drag on in the courts for months and perhaps as much as two years." Maximum sentence would be five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

But, Covington said, "The champ will never see the inside of a jail.'

Clay preached a sermon Friday night at the Muslim Mosque in Houston, his adopted hometown. He shied away from reporters, preferring to stand on the signed, flowery, four-page statement he doled out to newsmen after Friday's four hours of military procedures.

It read something like a last will and testament, naming those who have helped him from his beginnings as the shy, 1960 Olympic boxer, through his days as the boasting quick-witted pro champ and to his present role as a critic of war and American society.

The other men in Friday's draft group said afterwards that they were surprised by his genial, joking manner. He performed his famous "Ali shuffle" for them, dancing and punching clad only in socks and underwear.

He said, "I can joke because I'm not going."

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnesota's undefeated Gophers swept a doubleheader from Illinois Friday despite fielding lapses resulting in a total of seven errors.

Boosting their record to 5-0 in Big Ten competition, the Gophers downed the Illini 3-2 and 5-1 as they committed five errors in the first game and two in the second.

Michigan climbed into second place with a sweep over Northwestern, 1-0 and 8-2. Ohio State dropped a 2-1 decision to Indiana while two other twin bills ended in splits.

Purdue defeated Iowa 5-3 and then dropped the second game 6-0. Wisconsin defeated Michigan State 1-0 but the Spartans came roaring back for a 10-0 triumph in the second game.

Single Game

Ohio State is at Indiana in a single game Saturday while four more doubleheaders will keep the other eight teams busy. The twin bills find Illinois at Iowa, Northwestern at Michigan State, Purdue at Minnesota and Wisconsin at Michigan.

Minnesota managed its sweep over Illinois on the brilliant pitching of Jerry Wickman and Jack Palmer.

Wickman limited the Illini to two hits in the opener which Minnesota won in the final inning on a bases-loaded infield single by Dennis Zacho. Palmer then followed up with a two-hitter in the second game.

Southpaw Geoff Zahn hurled Michigan to its double triumph over Northwestern as he pitched both of the seven-inning games. The junior from Athens, Ohio, blanked Northwestern on four hits in the opener and then came back with a three-hit effort in the second game.

Jake Van Daalwyk Second in Class A

Near Pin Lead, With 928

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Jake Van Daalwyk, a veteran Kimberly bowler, narrowly missed taking over the top spot in Class A to lead an assault of eight area keglers on the Bowl-O-Rama standings Friday night.

Van Daalwyk crashed a 4-game set of 928, just four pins short of the leading mark of 932 by Dave Jacobson, of Neenah. Three more bowlers made inroads into the Class A division, including Art Leuknecht of Stockbridge, who moved into fourth with an 897. Jack Mueller, Appleton, and Frank Jungwirth, Oshkosh, each toppled 879s to charge into a 3-way tie for ninth place.

Royce Thiel, of Appleton, garnered Men's Class B honors for the night, with 853, moving him into the ninth spot over-all. Anthony Kuenzl, Oshkosh, was close behind with an 849 and Steve Kaufman, of Oshkosh had an 847.

Sharon Brandenburg, Marion, accounted for the only change in both women's categories, when she rolled her way into fourth place in Class B, on 834.

Van Daalwyk fired three games of over 200 scratch. He was at his best in the first line, toppling a 225. He followed with 191, 200, and 224 for an 840 total. An 88-pin handicap pushed his score up to 928.

The Kimberly man said afterwards that his third line of 191 probably accounted for his failure to overtake Jacobson. Van Daalwyk got seven pins on his first ball in the 10th frame, but then got just two on his final ball. A split and subsequent strike would have placed him well past the leader's 932.

Leuknecht fired scratch games of 210, 182, 195 and 246 for an 833 total. The 64-pin handicap mounted his final score to 897. Leuknecht had his eyes on the top prize in the tournament — a 1967 Rambler — in his last game.

He cracked seven strikes in a row at the outset, but got just eight pins on his first ball in the eighth frame. He got his spare, struck out again in the ninth, and then got just nine pins in the 10th frame for his 246 total. His 262 game, with handicap, was one of the prize winners for the night.

An oddity occured in the first shift, when Mueller and Jungwirth each wound up with the same scratch total of 807. Each, too, carried the same 18-pin handicap to boost each man's score to 879.

A 183 game got Sharon Brandenburg off to a good start in the Ladies Class B competition, and she followed with 144, 152, and 159 games for a 638 total. Since she had averaged only 126 during the year, her large handicap of 44 pins per game gave her the total of 834. Her 232 in the first game won her one of the prizes.

Also copping prizes for high games were Clarence Roemer, Kimberly, who had a 247 (213 scratch), and Marg Wildenberg, Kimberly, who pounded a 229 line (201 scratch).

Mathews Sparks Astro Win

Bob Veale Halts Cards; Braves Overcome 8-0 Deficit for 9-8 Victory

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Veale, already 6-feet-6, must feel about eight feet tall now after finally slicing the St. Louis Cardinals down to size.

The giant Pittsburgh left-hander looked more like a midget chopping away at the Cardinals in vain for 2½ years, but Friday night he stood over them with a 6-2 victory.

The triumph was the first for Veale over the Cardinals since July, 1964, and gave him half of Pittsburgh's six victories this season — he has yet to lose — as he continues to grow in stature as one of the National League's best hurlers.

The Atlanta Braves also faced a giant obstacle, an 8-0 deficit, but rose to the occasion and overcame the Philadelphia Phillies 9-8.

Outlast Cubs

First place Cincinnati continued to stand tall with a 7-1 victory over the New York Mets while the Houston Astros outlasted the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 13 innings and San Francisco stopped any growing pains Los Angeles entertained, 5-4.

The Braves spent much of their evening climbing uphill after Don Lock drove in four runs for the Phillies with a three-run homer and a single.

But Hank Aaron cut into the eight-run lead with a three-run homer and a run-scoring single as the Braves scored five times in the fourth and three in the fifth. Aaron then singled Felipe Alou to third in the ninth, where he scored on a fielder's choice.

High-riding Cincinnati won its third straight and eighth in nine games on Sammy Ellis' six-hitter, including Ed Kranepool's homer for the only Met run. Vada Pinson and Pete Rose buried the Mets with three hits and two RBI each.

Bif Man

Eddie Mathews was the big man for Houston as he tripled leading off the 13th and scored on Aaron Pointer's sacrifice fly in an up-and-down contest.

Rookie Don Wilson had a one-hitter and a 2-0 lead in the eighth for Houston before Ron Santo capped a three-run outburst with a two-run single. But Cub reliever John Upham wild pitched the tying run home in the ninth with two out.

Houston almost won it in the 10th after Chicago took a 4-3 lead. Jim Wynn tied it with a homer, but Jim Landis was out trying to steal home with the bases loaded and two out.

Tom Haller cut short a two-game Los Angeles winning streak by doubling home two runs in the eighth inning off Phil Regan to overcome a 4-3 deficit.

Al Ferrara of the Dodgers and Ken Henderson of the Giants, earlier had traded two-run homers.

Jays, Neenah Tie in Darkness-Curtailed Tilt

NEENAH — Darkness halted the Neenah-Menasha Mid-Eastern Conference baseball game after eight innings with the score tied, 3-3, here Friday afternoon.

The contest will be resumed in the ninth frame and concluded Wednesday afternoon.

A 2-run top-of-the-seventh by the Bluejays created the tie and forced the extra inning. The Rockets had runners on first and second with none out and the bases loaded with one out in the last of the eighth, but Terry Vindhurst relieved Steve Seidl and forced Larry Handler to pop to him and Gary Losse to ground to the shortstop.

Menasha collected a run in the third and held the slim lead until the Rockets' 3-run fifth. Neenah had the bases loaded twice in the fourth, but Seidl worked his way out of trouble.

Larry Fahrenkrug singled home one run in the seventh and the tying marker and tallied on Mark Hinske's sacrifice fly. Fahrenkrug's hit brought home the first run.

Neenah's runs were driven in by Losse, Dan Jankowski and Gary Platt.

Fahrenkrug had three of Menasha's eight hits and Hinske added two. Jankowski and Jim Fetters each hit safely twice for the rockets.

Al Ross pitched the eight innings for Neenah but was pinch hit for twice and can't re-enter again. Although relieved, Seidl remained in the game and again will be available for mound duty.

Boston's Lonborg Strikes Out 13 in 3-0 Win Over A's

Orioles Tip Tigers to Take AL Lead; White Sox Nip Indians

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lanky Jim Lonborg was too fine. Now he's not so fine. Which is much better.

Boston Red Sox Manager Dick Williams explained:

"His trouble has been his control. He's been trying to pitch to spots — trying to pitch too fine."

So Friday night Lonborg forgot the finesse, just leaned back and let fire with his fast ball. The result — a six-hit, 3-0 shutout of Kansas City and 13 strikeouts, high for the American League this season.

Lonborg, who had failed to last more than 6 1-3 innings in three previous starts, did not walk a man.

"That's the way I want to pitch all the itme," he said. "I just went out there and decided to throw the ball the way I know I can."

In the other American League games, all at night, Baltimore took over sole possession of the top spot with a 5-3 edge over Detroit, New York broke its homer drought in a 5-4 squeaker past California, the Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland 3-2 and Minnesota whipped Washington 7-3.

Lonborg, a 6-foot-5 righthander, used 133 pitches and said he relied primarily on his fast ball for the first seven innings, then went to a sinker.

The Red Sox gave big Jim all the support he needed in the fifth when George Scott led off with a single, Boston's first hit off Jim Hunter. Mike Andrews doubled Scott home. Singles by Lonborg and Reggie Smith sent Andrews across.

The Yankees, who hadn't had a home run since opening day, got homers from Tom Tresh and Steve Whitaker in the victory over the Angels. But it took a sacrifice fly by Elston Howard in the eighth to drive in the run that snapped a 4-4 tie. Don Mincher had a three-run homer for California. The Yanks' 10-game stretch without a homer was the club's longest since 1944.

Curt Blefary crashed a grand slam homer in the first inning pointed Baltimore to its triumph and pushed the Orioles into sole control of first place. Al Kaline hit a homer for the Tigers and was robbed of another by Blefary's leaping catch in the fifth.

Bob Allison drove in three runs with a single and a homer and Harmon Killebrew cracked a two-run homer in leading Minnesota past Washington. Walt Bond had a three-run homer for the Senators in the first, but the Twins' Dean Chance stopped Washington without a hit for the next seven innings.

Don Buford singled across two runs with one out in the bottom of the ninth and lifted the White Sox over Cleveland. The Indians had a 2-1 lead going into the last of the ninth, but Wayne Causey got a pinch single, Sonny Siebert allowed a walk and both moved up on a bad throw, setting the stage for Buford's winning single.

6 Selected for Kaukauna Hall of Fame

KAUKAUNA — Six former Kaukauna High School sports figures will be inducted into the newly formed Hall of Fame at the all-sports banquet at the school at 7 p.m. today. The affair is sponsored by the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Clubs and the Jaycees.

Selected by a 75 per cent vote of an 8-man selection committee were Richard "Red" Smith, Glen Miller, Elmer Ott, Kurt Beyer, Harold "Red" Peters and Paul Little. Selections were limited to men who had graduated in 1925 or before.

Smith, a star in all sports at Kaukauna, also played at Lawrence College and the University of Notre Dame. He played under Knute Rockne and made several All-America selections in 1926. He later played major league baseball with the New York Giants and pro football with the Green Bay Packers, New York Giants and New York Yankees.

He was a member of the 1929 Packer team, which won the world championship, served as line coach in the '30s and was a coach on the 1945 pennant-winning Chicago Cub team. He currently is a Toledo, Ohio, brewing company executive. Smith was graduated from high school in 1922.

Serves as Scout

Glen Miller, a 1925 graduate, was an outstanding football and basketball player at Kaukauna and went on to a career in major league baseball. He served as a scout for the Milwaukee Brewers and Chicago Cubs, general manager for the Eau Claire Braves of the Class C Northern League and finally as minor league farm director for the Chicago White Sox, a post he still holds.

Ott, a 1923 graduate, had an outstanding record as both a football and baseball player at Kaukauna High School and later was a top athlete at Lawrence College. He presently is YMCA camp director at Boulder Junction, making his home in Milwaukee.

Beyer, Lang trophy winner with the 1925 graduating class, played four years of football at Kaukauna High School and served as basketball team captain in 1924-25. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois and after many years as a successful coach at Norwich, N.Y., he is now recreation director in North Syracuse, N. Y., where 12,500 students and 40 physical education coaches are under his jurisdiction.

Peters, a 1925 graduate, played both football and basketball at Kaukauna High School and went on to make his name known in football at Lawrence College. He currently is a vice president of Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company.

Little, the only non-graduate of Kaukauna High School, was one of the most successful grid coaches in the state. During his tenure at Kaukauna, his teams won 11 championships. He later served as principal at Kaukauna High School until the time of his death in 1954.

Macs Schedule Meeting And Practice for Sunday

MENASHA — The Menasha Macs baseball team will hold a squad meeting and practice at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Menasha Ball park.

Although the Fox River Valley League has ceased operations for a year, the Macs will sponsor a team, playing an independent schedule of between 15 and 18 games.

Because there will be no limit on the size of roster, as was the case in league play, Mac officials have urged all candidates interested in trying out for the team to attend the Sunday session.

Veteran Pitcher Jim Meyer will manage the club, succeeding Ed Kamutzke, skipper the last three years.

Plans call for the Menashans to open their season at home against Two Rivers May 14. A twin bill will be played against Falk Corp. of Milwaukee May 21.

The Macs again will play host to the Fox Valley District tournament June 17-25.

Says Detroit Lions Consider Vince Almost Supernatural

MILWAUKEE (AP)— George Plimpton, editor of the Paris Review and author of The Paper Lion, says the Detroit Lions consider Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers to be almost supernatural.

"When someone suggested that it would have been better if Lombardi had stayed in Italy Plimpton remarked Thursday night, "I was agreed that if he had, Italy would have won World War II."

Plimpton, whose humorous attempt to be a weekend quarterback with the Lions became a best-selling book, spoke to the Bookfellows of Milwaukee about other athletic research—including sparring with Archie Moore, bull fighting in Spain and being out-classed against bridge champions.

"It's all right to find out that you can't run as fast as another man," he quipped. "It's a more serious thing to find out you can't think as well as another man."

Center Turnout Disappointing

Devil of a Good Time Provided by 'Don Juan'

BY JAMES AUER
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

MENASHA — Fifteen people had a devil of a good time Friday night.

Those 15 were those hardy souls (not, perhaps, an inappropriate figure of speech under the circumstances) who had gathered in the Fine Arts Theater of the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center to hear the Center Players present a public reading of Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell."

The Devil, in the present instance, was a red-jacketed Kenneth Anderson, director of drama at the center, giving voice and body to Shaw's conception of an urbane, sardonic Lucifer.

Trio of Shades

The Devil's disciples were Don Juan (played by Larry Lundeen), Dona Ana (Sally Shockley) and The Statue (J. E. Danielson), a trio of mortal shades with enough good intentions among them to pave any number of Stygian avenues.

As most playgoers must know by now, "Don Juan in Hell" was originally written as an interlude in "Man and Superman." Because of its length, it is seldom performed at the same time as the main body of the script. It is strong enough, however, to stand alone, and ranks high among Shaw's works in terms of the brilliancy of its language and the cogency of its observations.

In it Shaw voices his now-familiar ideas on such topics as man-woman relationships ("Marriage is the most licentious of institutions — that is the secret of its popularity"), the English ("An Englishman thinks he is moral when he is only uncomfortable"), heaven ("the most angelically insufferable place in all eternity"), and hell ("to be in hell is to drift — to be in heaven is to steer").

Still Contemporary

It is all good, well-reasoned talk, amusingly fashioned and peppered with paradox and contradiction. Because it is talk by a writer who was a thinker as well as the 20th century's greatest master of stage dialogue, it remains fresh and startlingly contemporary today.

In the recent past "Don Juan in Hell" has been successfully revived with such stars as Tyrone Power and Charles Boyer in leading roles. Although the present production does not benefit from magnetism such as this, it provides the listener with an intelligent and frequently interesting interpretation of Shaw's lines.

As the 77-year-old Dona Ana, Miss Shockley, a student seen previously in musical roles, reads well and strikes occasional sparks of real character. Danielson is wonderfully gruff as her father, a military man who finds heaven so dull he must come to the nether regions for companionship.

Lundeen, a Center student, is somewhat beyond his depth as Don Juan, although he, too, reads intelligently and with clarity. Anderson is well cast as the Devil, who is certain that his grassroots popularity is greater than the celestial Nielsen polls would indicate.

"Don Juan in Hell" will be repeated at 8:15 tonight. It is to be hoped that no Satanic necromancy will be required to conjure up an audience substantial enough to match the caliber of the script and the energy of the performances.

Stockbridge Band Class Reinstated

Summer Music Program Had Been Cancelled; District Vote Delayed

STOCKBRIDGE — Approval of a summer band program, requested last month by the Music Association, was given by the school board Thursday. The four-hour a day, eight-week program allowed last year had been deleted from this year's budget.

Association members told the board last month they would like to have it reinstated and that band director, Norbert Franz, had agreed to teach. Cost last year was about $700.

Cut Program

No schedule or other arrangements were discussed. Nine women members of the association appeared at the board meeting.

Supervising principal, Paul Dobias, told board members that federal aid under Title 1 for the six-weeks summer reading program had been cut from $26,000 to $19,000 this year. Seven teachers and lay assistants would be needed, he said, plus a secretary for the supervisor.

Answering an earlier suggestion made by the board that faculty teachers be given the opportunity to teach in the summer reading program, Dobias explained only those qualified to teach reading were allowed. He pointed out that a teacher with a physical education degree would not qualify. He said two grade school and two high school teachers qualified, and were interested in the positions. Contracts, however, were not presented to the board. Dobias was asked to look for the additional teachers.

Action on the Brillion vocational program was delayed until the annual meeting. The board felt that since it was approved at last year's annual meeting, the decision should come from the electors. Coordinator Harry Dryer, Brillion will be asked to attend. Dobias said next term's cost based on a potential of 17 students would be about $2,800 compared to $4,020 this year. He added that Development Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) might take some slow learning students into its Fond du Lac workshop.

Explains Bills

Industrial arts instructor, Leon Wolfe was present at the meeting to explain lumber bills questioned last month by the board. Wolfe said he had purchased quantity lots of material to realize a saving and avoid problems caused when small orders did not arrive on time and students were left without lumber with which to work. He said he would have an inventory of about $1,500. Asked if it was stored properly, the teacher said it was. The bills were allowed. However, it was pointed out that to carry an inventory two or three times the amount that is needed was a little more than they felt necessary.

In other business the board.

—Allowed Kurt Hoffmeister use of the gym one or two nights a week during the summer for recreational purposes for high and post-high school groups.

Outagamie Based Service Will Buy Five New Planes

In keeping with their plans for a ". . .new outlook of Maxair, service," the officers of Maxair, Inc., have revealed plans for an entire new and expanded air fleet which will be keyed to meet the growing demands for general aviation in the Fox Valley.

A complete updating of the current equipment of Maxair will include five new Cessna aircraft. This modernization will bring to the valley a modern all-weather charter service and expanded flight training program.

King-pin of the fleet will be the 200-mile-an-hour twin engine Cessna 310 capable of carrying five to six persons over eight hundred miles non-stop.

For single-engine shorter range charter work the corporation plans to use the Cessna 210 luxury liner capable of carrying four to five passengers. Both these planes can also provide air ambulance and air freight service.

Maxair also will provide service to passengers arriving at the Outagamie County Airport via Air Wisconsin to more distant communities not presently served by any scheduled carrier.

Further additions to the fleet will be a fully instrumented single-engine aircraft for Instrument Flight instruction and rental as well as two Cessna 150's for student training. All will be new aircraft and equipped with the latest radio communications gear.

Maxair is now an FAA fully certified flight training center and qualified to provide complete training for private, commercial and instrument certificates. The organization has four instructors available for flight training and Max Sagunsky, president, is an FAA designated flight inspector.

Maxair, Inc. looks forward to further expansion and additional services to meet the growing needs and demands of the valley, Sagunsky said.

New London Man To be Examined At State Hospital

WAUPACA — A 60-day mental examination at Central State Hospital, Waupun, was ordered Friday for William G. Quaintance, 25, 302½ N. Shawano St., New London, who has been charged with carrying a concealed weapon, threatening to kill his wife and disorderly conduct.

The mental examination was requested by Richard E. Peterson, Quaintance's court-appointed attorney, and ordered by Judge Wendell McHenry.

Quaintance was arrested by Waupaca Police during the early morning hours of April 11 when he allegedly attempted to enter a home at which his wife was staying.

Runway Extension Request Given to FFA for Approval

State Commission Cuts 500 Feet From County's Proposal

Outagamie County's request for an extension to its new airport runway, now under construction, has been submitted to the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), but in a watered-down form.

The Wisconsin Aeronautics Commission, meeting Thursday in Sheboygan, supported action by the commission's Madison staff which recommended to the FAA that the 5,200 foot runway be extended to 6,500 feet.

Outagamie County's original request, for which a hearing was conducted in Appleton Feb. 9, was for an 1,800-foot extension to make the new runway 7,000 feet in length.

Program Deadline

Deadline for project applications to the FAA for participation in the 1968 federal aid program was Wednesday.

The commission's staff, in Madison, sent the application to the FAA's Minneapolis area office with the 6,500-foot recommendation before the commission had a chance to act. As a result, the commission could do nothing Thursday but approve the staff's action.

Don Love, Green Bay, one of the commission members, said today that he objects to the way the Outagamie County aid application was handled.

"I felt," Love said, "that Outagamie County had developed one of the better cases that had come before the commission in several years. But the staff, apparently, felt that 6,500 feet was sufficient.

"I object," he stated, "to the staff alteration of the petition prior to the official commission consideration of the facts, as developed at the hearing. In this instance, the authority of the commission as a policymaking group was circumvented."

Love indicated that the 7,000 foot runway would have won approval of the commission if it had been given the opportunity to act by the Madison staff.

Outagamie's petition for federal participation in paying the cost of constructing a runway extension is now in the Minneapolis area office of the FAA with the recommendation that it be 1,300 feet to make the total southwest-northeast runway length 6,500 feet, instead of an 1,800 foot extension.

The FAA is expected to announce its 1968 airport construction program in late summer.

Construction on the new runway is expected to resume next week after a winter delay.

Bus Line to Serve Waupaca-Appleton

State Gives Approval to Seymour Bid

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The inauguration of passenger bus service by Seymour Transfer Lines, Inc., of Seymour between Appleton and Waupaca and Appleton and Black Creek has been approved by the Public Service Commission over the objections of other carriers.

The firm now provides passenger service between Waupaca and Green Bay on Highway 54 and points west to La Crosse by way of Stevens Point and Wisconsin Rapids.

Serve Black Creek

The effect of the additional authority will be to provide service between Green Bay and Waupaca by way of Appleton and to provide a service between Black Creek and Appleton that is not now available from any other carrier, the regulatory agency said.

Greyhound now operates between Appleton and Waupaca, but it did not oppose the application.

An objecting company, Inter-County Motor Coach Lines, now provides service with one round trip a day between Rhinelander and Appleton, connecting with its Green Bay-Waupaca route at New London.

Firm Objects

Wisconsin - Michigan Coaches Inc., another objecting company, provides a service between Green Bay and Eau Claire by way of Shawano, Wausau and Chippewa Falls. It expressed concern that the Seymour firm might change its schedules at Stevens Point and establish an interconnection with Greyhound there that would interfere with the Green Bay-Eau Claire run. But the commission said that is a remote contingency.

The commission said the new line would allow residents of Waupaca, Fremont, Weyauwega and environs, and other points between Waupaca and Appleton to take a bus into Appleton in the morning and to return in the evening.

"This would be convenient for shoppers and others who do not desire to stay overnight in Appleton. Greyhound does not offer a service which will accommodate such passengers. A local service would also be offered between Black Creek and Appleton," the commission's approving order said.

Wittenberg Golf Club Plans New Clubhouse

Blueprints Incomplete; Members Told of Progress on Developing Maple Hills Course

WITTENBERG — Discussion of building plans for a clubhouse at the new Maple Hills Golf Course highlighted the second annual meeting of club members this week.

Don Betry, reporting for the building committee, informed the group that due to lack of blueprints, the presentation of construction bids has been hampered, so the time for opening bids has been extended. About 18 contractors are interested in various phases of the project, he said.

The treasurer's report by Milton Voelz showed a balance of $24,380 and club president, Robert O'Dell said the amount should be sufficient for construction of a very adequate building.

Directors Elected

In other action, Voelz and Robert Cappel were re-elected to the board of directors and Betry was newly-elected to a board post.

Cappel, membership chairman, voted that the group has 150 charter members. Voting family fees were set at $75 per year; non-voting families, $100; single-voting member, $50; single non-voting member, $70, and non-voting students, $30. Daily greens fees have been set at $2.75 during the week and $3.25 on weekends.

Irrigation Lines

The course's irrigation lines are in and will be tested soon, according to Everet Lendved, and a bridge will be installed over the Embarrass River to accommodate play on the second hole.

School use of the course was also discussed at the meeting. It was decided that the first year's fees will have to be pro-rated, because the course will not be ready until later in the season.

Grass planting and driving range construction will begin this week, before the placing of sand traps to complete the layout.

Police Veteran Resigns From County Force

Russell Bowers to Leave Department After 12 Years

Russell Bowers, 46, an Outagamie County policeman for 12 years, has resigned, effective May 18, Sheriff Norbert Marx told the county board's law enforcement committee Friday.

Bowers, in his letter of resignation, said he was quitting "for personal reasons." He indicated that he intends to take other employment near Appleton, and will continue to live here.

The Appleton man, one of four sheriff's investigators, started as a county patrolman in September of 1951. He worked as a policeman until 1959 when he resigned. He returned as an investigator in 1963.

Seek Replacement

Bowers and his family live at 3105 N. Ballard Road. Marx indicated that steps will be taken to find a replacement for Bowers.

In other business, this morning, the board's law enforcement committee approved procedural steps for the change-over to squad car fuel purchases at the Outagamie County Highway Department shop at 3300 W. Wisconsin Ave. The change becomes effective Monday. In the past, gasoline has been purchased from Van Zeeland Oil Co. at Little Chute, on a contract basis.

County police, at the end of the daily 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. shifts, will now be required to get gasoline and check their squad cars for water, oil, and windshield solution levels, and clean the windshield and lights.

Marx also told the committee this morning that a radar unit, used in traffic control work, has been mounted in one squad car.

Jorgenson was alone in the car.

Will Enter Plea May 5 in WSU-O Narcotics Case

OSHKOSH — A long-haired and bearded Stephen R. Evans, WSU-O senior from Juneau, Wis., heard Judge James V. Sitter declare Thursday that there is probable cause to believe that he has used marijuana in an Oshkosh apartment.

His girl friend, who earlier in the day was sentenced to one year probation for possessing marijuana, told the judge that she and Evans smoked marijuana more than ten times in the apartment.

The soft-spoken girl, Patricia Christi, a WSU-O sophomore from Lansdowne, Pa., said Evans gave her the marijuana she smoked.

The girl was arrested after she admitted herself Feb. 2 to Winnebago State Hospital and a small vial of the greenish powdery substance was found in her possession.

The district attorney placed several witnesses on the stand to show that the vial taken from Miss Christi was marijuana. It was tested at the state crime laboratory.

The defense argued that there was no proof that the vial was given to the girl by Evans and moved for dismissal of the case. The motion was denied.

The defense also asked that the $5,000 bond be lowered, but the judge refused. Evans was released upon payment of bond after the examination.

The 21-year-old Juneau, Wis. youth will enter a plea May 5.

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON The Public Service Commission will study a request for increased bus service between the twin villages of Adams and Friendship in Adams County by Seymour Transfer Lines of Seymour, it has assured petitioners from the localities. The firm now provides such service on Fridays and Saturdays.

But the regulatory agency said also that it has no authority to order the firm to provide service between those villages and Wisconsin Dells, to the south, as the petition it received also asked.

Byrnes Predicts No Tax Hike In Talk to District Caucus

More Bureaucracy, Creditability Gap Cited in Attacking Democrats

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Rep. John W. Byrnes, veteran 8th District Republican, Thursday predicted there would be no tax increase in the near future and bombarded the Democratic Administration for actions ranging from increasing bureaucracy to a creditability gap.

The Green Bay lawmaker, now serving his 11th term in the House, was the principal speaker at the 8th District GOP caucus at the Beaumont Motor Inn.

Also speaking before the 200 representatives from the seven county area were Lt. Gov. Jack Olson and State GOP Chairman Ody Fish.

Telling his audience the government "faces a huge deficit this year and another one next year," Byrnes predicted President Johnson "won't get the tax increase measure through congress."

Reduce Spending

The President months ago called for a 6 per cent surtax to halt inflation.

Byrnes — as he has done for most of his 20 years in Washington — called on the federal government to reduce spending to aid the economy.

He said last fall's resurgence of the Republican Party "shows that the people are losing faith with the Democrats.

"The people are tired of promises easily made and rarely fulfilled. They are tired of constantly increasing taxes and federal power . . . tired of not being able to believe what their government says . . . tired of being pawns in a power struggle between Johnson and Robert Kennedy," Byrnes continued.

"It's time we have a government that squares with the people," Byrnes stated. "We want the facts — even the ugly facts — so we know what has to be done," the representative said.

He criticized Senate Democrats for blocking needed legislation by "fighting" among themselves. He said Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield and Senate whip Russell Long are "at odds" and are responsible for a stalemate in the Senate.

Senate at Standstill

The Senate has been at a standstill for almost a month, Byrnes declared, and has stalled the re-instatement of the 7 per cent investment credit for capital improvement for business — a bill which would stimulate the economy.

Byrnes also predicted a good future for the Republicans in the coming elections. "The Republican Party is on the rise and going great," he said to the delight of the audience.

Olson verbally patted Gov. Knowles on the back for aiding in industrial development throughout the state and for his leadership in anti-pollution laws.

Under Knowles' administration pollution control has begun, Olson said.

"Even Nelson (Senator Gaylord Nelson, former governor), self-claimed king of conservation — or Reynolds (former Democratic Governor, John Reynolds) never submitted an anti-pollution bill" as did Knowles, Olson said.

Fish, urging continued "hard work by all Republicans" said the party is still the minority party in Wisconsin. It will be difficult to "carry over the scccess of 1966" while picking up a U. S. Senate seat and electing a Republican attorney general, Fish added.

Judge Refuses New Trial For Arsonist

Richard Cornelius Now Serving Time At Reformatory

Outagamie County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren late this morning denied a motion by the state's public defender who asked that a new trial be granted for Richard Allen Cornelius, 20, who is serving a five-year reformatory term for burning an Oneida church and two barns Oct. 31, 1965.

Robert Friebert had asked that the guilty verdict by a 12-member Outagamie County Court jury April 20, 1966, be set aside and a new trial be ordered on grounds that Cornelius, formerly of rural West DePere, was not represented by legal counsel during the trial, and was not competent to intelligently waive his right to counsel.

Found Guilty

Cornelius was found guilty of three counts of arson in connection with fires that destroyed Immaculate Conception Catholic Church and barns owned by George Verkuilen and Louis Peterson.

Cornelius, who was found indigent, refused the services of three court-appointed attorneys and, during the trial, refused to participate in his own defense on the grounds that he was without legal counsel.

The state defender, named to the case after Cornelius wrote to the State Supreme Court asking for appointment of legal counsel for an appeal, contended during an hour-long hearing before Judge Van Susteren this morning that the court should have compelled an attorney to continue representing Cornelius.

Declared Fit

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, in objecting to the public defender's motion, said that Central State Hospital officials had declared Cornelius fit for trial and able to participate in his own defense.

Schaefer said that such a thing as was being discussed in court this morning "could lead to absurdity." He said he could see a defendant asking for nationally - known attorneys, "like (Melvin) Belli or (F. Lee) Bailey."

In commenting on his decision to deny the motion, Judge Van Susteren said, "I recall very definitely I tried very much and very long to provide competent counsel for this lad (Cornelius). I was convinced he was coached by someone taking a calculated risk for him."

"The court quite scrupulously observed all the rights a defendant could have had. The trial was conducted in an atmosphere as regular and judicial as circumstances would permit. The evidence was overwhelmingly against him (Cornelius)," the Judge continued.

Both Friebert and Schaefer were asked if they wanted to submit briefs. Both declined, with Freibert saying he would abide by the judge's decision.
